Convoys, Raider Hunt Reply to Axis Threats

NAVY EMPLOYS 'ALL METHODS' TO GUARD AID

Knox Discloses Warships Are Protecting 2,000-Mile Atlantic Area.

TRAIL CRAFT IN PACIFIC

Double Action Gives Notice Of 'No Half-Way Measures' In U. S. Policy.

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON—With convoys plowing the Atlantic and a grim raider hunt in the Pacific, the United States navy let actions do the talking back today to repeated Axis threats of dire consequences.

When Germany believed there was a possibility of convoys months ago, Grand Marshal Erich Raeder openly warned the United States that the reich would consider such a step "an open war act" and that the German navy would use its guns if necessary against American warships on such duty.

But all uncertainty on the question of American convoys was dissipated late yesterday when Navy Secretary Knox disclosed that the Atlantic fleet was using all methods, convoys included, to safeguard British-bound lease-lend cargoes in the 2,000 miles of the North Atlantic that are regarded as "defensive waters."

The navy chief thought it "unwise and indiscreet" to go into further details.

At the same time, however, Knox revealed that the navy believed an Axis surface raider was operating near the Galapagos islands in the South Pacific and, while the fact had not been positively eastablished, the hunt was on.

The twin disclosures gave official notice that no half-way measures were being employed to en-

WE'RE TOUGH

Officials Say U. S. Air Force Can Meet Any Assault.

NEW ORLEANS—(AP)—Two high ranking U. S. air officials expressed the belief in an interview today that this nation's air power is great enough to withstand any assault.

They were Robert A. Lovett, assistant secretary of war for air, and Major General Henry H. Arnold, chief of the army air forces, who arrived here yesterday after an inspection trip of air facilities in the vital Louisiana-Texas maneuver area.

Both refused to be quoted directly on the United States' air power, but were emphatic in the belief that it was so strong this nation need not submit to any other nation, that its equipment is as good as any in the world and that its personnel is superb.

As Bankers Convened In City

Approximately 400 north central Ohio bankers gathered at the Mansfield-Leland hotel yesterday for the 35th annual meeting of Group Six, Ohio Bankers' association. Top photo shows Paul M. Eliot, center, secretary-treasurer of the Farmers Saving and Trust company, and chairman of the nine-county group, discussing a financial problem with John E. Wise, left, president of the Willard United bank and president of the State Bankers association, and Rodney P. Lien, right, state superintendent of banks. Wise is a past president of Group Six. Below is Monfort Jones, professor of finance at the University of Pittsburgh, who was the principal speaker at the concluding session following a banquet in the hotel ballroom.

WARNS BANKERS OF INFLATION

Warning of impending financial disaster, Monfort Jones, professor of finance at the University of Pittsburgh, last night told approximately 400 north central Ohio bankers that the nation today stands poised on the brink of an inflation era.

"We are already on the way," he asserted. "And something serious will result unless we do something about it."

Addressing Group Six of the Ohio Bankers' association at its 35th annual meeting, Jones told his audience that "today we have a ringside seat at the greatest economic show in history."

"After 10 years with an unbalanced peace-time budget—a glorification of public spending—we are now beginning to SPEND," he added, citing a national public debt, which he said, since the European war

Sewage Engineers Arrive In City For 2-Day Parley

Approximately 200 Ohio sewage plant operators and engineers heard Mayor William J. Locke welcome them to Mansfield today for their two-day conference on sewage treatment at the Mansfield-Leland hotel.

Unlike other meetings where preliminary arrangements occupy several hours, the engineers started immediately a technical discussion of the operators' mutual problems.

At the morning session, reports were given on "Bathing Beach Waters of Cleveland," "Corrosion," and a discussion of federation of sewage works associations.

Technical and non-technical discussions were to be held this afternoon with operators and en-

THREATENS TO TAKE OVER 11 STRUCK SHIPS

Maritime Commission Delivers Ultimatum on Vessels Tied Up In U. S. Ports.

CONFERENCE HELD

Shipowners, Union Told to Act by Noon Today. On Dispute.

(By Associated Press)

A threat by the maritime commission to take over 11 strike-bound ships brought ship operators and the AFL Seafarers International union into a hurried conference at Weehawken, N. J., today.

The commission's ultimatum, delivered last night, was that unless arbitration proceedings were started immediately the government would requisition the vessels which have been held at dock six days by the labor dispute. Capt. Granville Conway of the commission said he had set noon as the deadline for action on the disputants.

Seven of the vessels are in New York harbor, two in New Orleans and one each at Boston and Moline. They are owned by the Alcoa, Calmar, Robin and Waterman lines.

The Seafarers International union (AFL) called a strike Saturday, demanding increases above the present $60-a-month war bonuses paid by some lines for trips to war-menaced waters. The seamen and the ship owners thus far have failed to arbitrate their differences.

Admiral Emory S. Land, maritime commission chairman, issued the arbitration ultimatum after the union had rejected his appeal to keep working while the controversy was ironed out.

RESUME TALKS

Mediation Board Again Seeks To Re-open 30 Mines.

WASHINGTON — (U.P.) — The defense mediation board today resumed attempts to re-open more than 30 "captive" soft coal mines as steel companies reported that existing coal stocks are dwindling and that some blast furnaces may be forced to close this week.

Soft coal supplies from "captive" mines, whose production goes solely to the steel companies, have been stopped in Kentucky, Pennsylvania and West Virginia since Monday when 43,000 members of the United Mine Workers (CIO) struck. They demand a union shop.

Following hearings yesterday, Board Chairman William H. Davis said the board and the disputants now have under consideration a "proposal" offered to the meeting by UMW President John L. Lewis.

U. S. Destroyer On Convoy Duty In Atlantic

FIRE LEVY GOES ON CITY BALLOT

Council Sends Half-Mill Tax Proposal to Election Board, 7 Other Issues Up.

Mansfield voters will ballot at the November election on a proposed half-mill tax levy to finance expansion of the city's fire department, while electors in other sections of the county will decide seven special issues, three of them involving school operating levies.

City council today had filed with the county board of elections notice of its intention to submit the proposed levy to voters. If approved, it would be in effect five years, producing about $27,000 a year. The funds would finance construction of a new station in the west side of the city, improvements to an old station, expansion of the fire signal system, and purchase of additional fire-fighting equipment.

School levies will be voted on in Madison township, Cass village, and Union Rural districts. Voters in Madison township will be asked to renew a three-mill operating levy. A proposed two-mill levy will be submitted in the Cass districts will ask voters to apthree years in the Union Rural district.

Lucas will vote on a proposed $18,000 bond issue to expand the village waterworks system, while Bellville will decide a three-mill operating levy for the village.

The Bellville and Butler school districts will ask voter sto approve centralization of their schools, giving the boards of education more control over schools in the districts.

VETS TO PICK NEW COMMANDER

Will Also Choose 1942 Campsite During Sessions Today.

COLUMBUS — (U.P.) — Selection of a new commander-in-chief to succeed William W. Nixon, Jewell, Kans., was the principal interest of approximately 100 veterans of the Grand Army of the Republic as they met in business sessions of their Diamond Jubilee national encampment today.

Thomas Ambrose, Chicago, senior vice-commander; Dr. John Stone, Kokomo, Ind.; and George A. Gay, Nashua, N. H., were considered the most likely candidates for command of the veterans.

"The Boys in Blue" also were to select a 1942 campsite today.

NOW HE FACES KIDNAP CHARGE

Youngstown Man Cited Again, After Indictment For Holdup.

YOUNGSTOWN — (INS) — Already indicted in connection with a $35,000 Railway Express holdup, Frank (Cowboy) Chako today faced kidnaping charges as a result of an alleged "ride" given to a Youngstown slot machine operator Tuesday.

Chako, the kidnaping affidavit charged, drove Jerry Pascarella, 20, and Frank Carey, co-signers of the affidavit, to a lonely spot in Trumbull county and shot at both of them as they were forced to flee from an automobile.

Pascarella told assistant Mahoning county Prosecutor John J. Kane that he and Chako long have been rivals in the slot machine business.

SEIZE CHILEANS

Make Arrests on Grounds of Hostility to Reich.

BERLIN —(AP)— Several Chileans—the exact number undisclosed—have been arrested in Germany on suspicion of engaging in activities hostile to the Reich, authoritative sources announced today.

"We regret being compelled to take such measures," one informant asserted, "but reasons of state make them imperative. We are in war and it is essential to eliminate all elements intriguing against us." Disclosure of the arrests was made in connection with a query concerning 27 Germans taken into custody in Chile.

(Thirteen Germans, 10 alleged chiefs of Nazi cells and three officials of German business houses, were held for investigation at Santiago, Chile, last Thursday night. One of them, Otto Zippelius, was a former instructor to the Chilean army.)

FARMERS HERE PLAN ELECTION

Hundreds Participating In Federal AAA Program To Pick Committeemen.

Hundreds of Richland county farmers who are participating in the government AAA farm program will go to the polls at 8 p. m. next Wednesday to elect 90 township committeemen and 18 delegates to a county-wide election meeting the following day in Mansfield.

The delegates, one from each township, will choose the county committee Thursday afternoon in AAA headquarters at 78½ North Diamond street.

The county and township organizations will administer the 1942 program which will urge participating farmers to produce more food crops for war-stricken countries and place more emphasis on land-building practices.

Voting places in all of the county's 18 townships had been designated today by Guy L. Taylor, county AAA chairman. They are:

TROUSERS PROVE SUCCESSFUL LURE

Inmate Who Fled Sanitarium Naked Yields to Call of Pants.

AKRON—(INS)—An inmate of a private sanitarium at nearby Cuyahoga Falls was in Cuyahoga Falls jail today while Sheriff Walter P. O'Neil debated what charges, if any, to place against him.

The inmate escaped from the institution yesterday without a stitch of clothing on his body. O'Neil and his deputies took a pair of trousers with them when they started their search. Failing to find the man O'Neil hung the trousers on a branch near a cave. When they returned after a few minutes the trousers were gone.

The man was captured an hour later, wearing the trousers.

119 PILLBOXES TAKEN, GUNS BLAST AT CITY

Crimean Peninsula Reported Cut Off at Southern End Of Russian Front.

SPREAD OF WAR SEEN

Turkey, Bulgaria Expected To Become Involved Over Dardanelles.

(By Associated Press)

German troops were reported to have invested a fortified park and taken by storm 119 pillboxes on the outskirts of Leningrad today, while Nazi siege guns bombarded the heart of the old czarist capital and prepared to shell the great Kronstadt naval base of the Russian Baltic fleet.

Other dark news for the Soviet cause was contained in advices reaching London, which said Adolf Hitler's invasion armies at the extreme southern end of the front had apparently cut off the entire Crimea peninsula.

Sebastopol, the big Russian naval base on the Black sea, thus presumably was isolated from the U. S. S. R. mainland.

In the nearby Middle East, a series of developments indicated that Turkey and Bulgaria may soon become involved in the gigantic conflict.

The Vichy (French) radio reported that because of mounting tension between Bulgaria and Russia, Bulgarian mobilization was going on "in all haste."

Simultaneously, advices reaching Ankara said the British were moving artillery and other military units northward through Syria toward the Turkish border in a constant stream.

Russia has sternly warned Bulgaria against serving as the base for new German military exploits.

London quarters also reported an Italian attempt to send warships flying the Bulgarian flag through the Turkish-controlled Dardanelles. The British ambassador at Ankara, it was said, "probably" had made representations to the Turkish government.

REDS GET LOAN

Morgenthau Says Ten Millions Advanced to Soviets.

WASHINGTON —(U.P.)— Secretary of Treasury Henry Morgenthau, jr., disclosed today that the government advanced $10,000,000 to the Soviet union more than a month ago to help the Russians meet their current bills for war materials in the United States.

Morgenthau said the $10,000,000 was an advance against gold which the Russian government was to ship to the United States over a period of 90 days from the date of the advance.

Morgenthau's disclosure at a press conference followed closely announcement by Federal Loan Administrator Jesse H. Jones that this government would advance Russia $50,000,000 through the defense supplies corporation as advance payment on approximately $100,000,000 worth of strategic raw materials produced in Russia and needed in the defense program here.

WORK STOPPED

Plasterers, Hodcarriers Strike At Canton Housing Project.

CANTON —(INS)— AFL plasterers today caused a "work stoppage" on the government's 300-unit defense housing project because federal specifications did not call for a "finishing coat" of lime to meet with union working regulations. Forty plasterers and 30 hodcarriers were affected by the strike, voted Monday.

The dispute is the third on the job since construction began last spring. Plumbers walked off the job in July because of disagreements over plumbing code violations and carpenters struck last month.

COLLECTIONS HIGHER

COLUMBUS —(INS)— To date this year sales tax collections exceed those of 1940 by nearly nine million dollars, State Treasurer Ebright stated today. The totals for the year were $40,779,823 for 1941 and $31,932,108 for 1940.

City to Welcome Moose Tonight

Civic Meeting Starts Convention Drawing 4,000 From Ohio.

Program details complete, the Mansfield Moose lodge today prepared to open the lodge's 12th annual state convention which starts tonight and continues through Sunday.

More than 90 lodges in Ohio will send some 4,000 representatives to the convention, largest held in Mansfield in years.

Delegates started arriving yesterday and by tonight several hundred were expected to be on hand with buses, trains and automobile caravans bringing hundreds of others Friday and Saturday, Earl A. McFarland, district deputy supreme governor, in charge of arrangements said.

Mansfield, already gaily decorated with flags and bunting, gives its official welcome to Moose delegates tonight at a civic meeting at the Moose temple, North Walnut street.

The meeting is open to the public with Mayor W. J. Locke giving an address of welcome. Speakers will include Judge Willard D. Campbell, president of the Ohio State Moose association and J. Jack Stoner, regional Moose direc-

Stranded Trio of Privates Captures Whole 'Red' Platoon

(By Associated Press)

ALEXANDRIA, La.—A goodly portion of glory was bestowed today upon three privates of the 112th engineers, 37th Ohio division.

Separated from an eight-man patrol during a reconnaisance mission, the trio wound up eventually with full credit for the capture of more than 60 foes during the great war games between the second and third armies.

The men are Michael Slivka, Peter Dobrinic and Thomas Sweeney, all of Cleveland.

They became separated from their patrol in a woods outside the command post, and Slivka sighted three outguards of the Red army. He sent Dobrinic back to locate the rest of the patrol and then, with Sweeney, slowly skirted the three Red guards, sidled up from the rear and captured two of them.

Slivka ordered one of the prisoners to call the third man over. The captured foe obeyed—and out of the bushes and tall grass popped not one guard but an entire platoon of 60 to see what the trouble was.

At that instant, Dobrinic returned with the rest of the Blue patrol and the amazed Reds, covered with automatic rifles, were taken prisoner.

NAZIS CLOSE IN ON LENINGRAD, ISOLATE CRIMEA

Turkey, Bulgaria Expected to Be Drawn Into War; Report Bulgars Mobilizing.

at Ankara, recently returned from Rumania and Bulgaria, said Bulgaria had purchased six Italian destroyers in a "smoke screen" deal and had asked Turkey's permission to bring them through the Dardanelles into the Black sea, where British and Russians suspected they might be used by the Axis.

The Bulgarian request was said to have been delivered to the Turks on Sept. 12, with no answer as yet.

Under the Montreux convention, no warship of a belligerent nation may pass through the Dardanelles. Although technically neutral, Bulgaria is dominated by Germany.

Meanwhile, the British press renewed its clamor for the opening of a new front against the Germans, probably by an attempt to land troops in western Europe, with the conservative London Times declaring Britain not only must help the Russians but "develop other fronts where the enemy will have to expend his strength."

Hitler's high command announcing "great success" in the onslaught against Leningrad, said German troops sweeping eastward across the Dnieper river in the Ukraine were "progressing irresistibly."

Nazi warplanes operating from the Arctic to the Black sea were credited with sinking three Soviet troop transports, a destroyer, two submarines and four torpedo-boats. Sixteen other ships were declared to have been hit so heavily their loss could be assumed.

German commentators said the silencing of Kronstadt, which guards the sea gate to Leningrad, would permit Nazi warships to move up the Gulf of Finland and take the siege-girt metropolis with its 3,000,000 population under a devastating fire.

Countering Berlin's claims of success in the 89-day-old struggle, the Russians reported a sharp blow to Germany blitz prestige, asserting that Red army troops defending Bryansk, on the central front, had all but annihilated the mechanized forces of Col. Gen. Heinz Guderian, the so-called "Phantom General" of the French campaign.

A Soviet bulletin said Guderian, whose radio-directed panzers outflanked France's Maginot line in 1940, had lost two-thirds of his effectiveness—a total of 20,000 troops killed, wounded or captured, as well as 500 tanks, 70 armored cars, 1,525 trucks, 195 airplanes, 52 trench mortars and vast stores of other booty.

German and Finnish reports stressed the campaign in the north.

Helsinki dispatches declared Finnish troops had captured the city of Syvaeri (or Svirstroi) and blown up the tracks of the Leningrad-Murmansk railway, the major land route for supply of Red army troops in the far north. Lake Onega and Arctic sea approaches, however, would remain for Soviet military use even if all land communication were cut off.

Bolstering her preparations for a long war, Russia ordered all male civilians between the ages of 16 and 50 to undergo military training, starting Oct. 1. The Soviet defense committee arranged for a training period totaling 110 hours to swell the ranks of Red army reserves.

The German press emphasized reports of blows against British and Allied shipping.

Dienst Aus Deutschland, authoritative commentary, said U-boats had sunk 30,000 tons of shipping a day in the North Atlantic for the last ten days. Speedboats were declared to have sunk four ships totaling 25,000 tons from a British convoy in the English channel Tuesday night.

British and German planes crossed paths at the channel on offensive missions overnight.

Royal Air Force bombers attacked Rhineland targets for the second night in succession and a Berlin announcement acknowledged slight damage in southwestern Germany.

German planes bombed two places on the southeast coast of England, the British government said, causing some damage and a small number of casualties.

Report Nazis in Nine-Mile Retreat

LONDON—(INS)—Nazi forces have retreated nine miles after an important Russian victory on one sector of the Leningrad front, the Leningrad radio declared today.

"Our men are fighting with the knowledge that they won't be able to return to Leningrad except as victors," the Russian radio said. "The enemy is throwing crack new divisions into the battle against us, but we too are throwing new forces into the conflict, dealing blow for blow against the enemy who is suffering bloody losses."

Finnish Warship Sunk in Sea Battle

STOCKHOLM —(INS)— The Finnish warship Ilmarinen has been sunk after a terrific sea battle with Russian ships off Hangoe at at the entrance to the Gulf of Finland, the Finnish legation announced today.

Two hundred and fifty members of the crew of 330 are feared to have gone down with the ship.

The Ilmarinen, of 3,900 tons, was one of Finland's two best warships. The other is the Vaeinoemoeinen.

WARNS BANKERS OF INFLATION

has mounted to 61 billion dollars.

Jones, who interspersed his talk with humor gave the bankers figures, comparing the nation's budget with appropriations 20 years ago.

He pointed out that the government's "mass purchasing power" for the defense program had caused a boom in non-defense spending, terming it the basic cause for inflation worry.

"Inflation is caused by extra increase in purchasing power—a buying phenomena—that becomes serious only when demand overshadows supply," he declared.

"As long as we have idle plant capacity and labor there is no cause for worry. But the demand has caught up with the supply and at the present time there is a shortage of men and machines. The problem has reached the serious stage."

He said that measures to counteract inflation had already been taken by the government through regulatory measures such as priority and price control.

"These are measures that must be maintained," he asserted. "All we can hope for is that they will be intelligently administered."

Earlier, John E. Wise, president of the Willard United bank and president of the Ohio Bankers association, called upon the bankers to "interest themselves in the farmer."

He said that 75 per cent of the banks in the nine-county Group Six area were dependent on agriculture for most of their business and that it was up to them to study farm financing problems.

Wise warned of the effects the proposed Fulmer bill now before congress would have on private banking and urged the bankers to oppose it.

He said the bill, similar to the Jones-Wheeler proposal, defeated by a narrow margin a year ago, would turn farm lending completely over to the government "on terms which we could not compete."

Other speakers were Rodney P. Lien, state superintendent of banks; John McSweeney, Wooster, Ohio, administrator for the defense bond campaign, and David M. Auch, secretary of the Ohio Bankers' association.

An agricultural credit forum designed to show the services banks can render farmers was led during the afternoon by Dr. Phil Eckert of the College of Agriculture of Ohio State university.

Participating in the discussion were Novelist Louis Bromfield; H. E. Cook, president of the Second National bank of Bucyrus, W. L. Hart, executive vice president of the Farmers National bank at Salem, and Paul Bachman, president of the National City bank at Marion.

Paul M. Eliot, secretary-treasurer of the Farmers Savings and Trust company, chairman of Group Six, presided at the meeting Officers re-elected by the group are Paul A. Warner, vice president of the Knox County Savings bank, Mt. Vernon, vice-chairman, and William B. Kuhn, cashier at the Citizens bank, Shelby, secretary-treasurer. Eliot serves as chairman through next year.

City Hall Employes Frolic At Picnic

There were plenty of aching muscles today, but city employes were unanimous in their decision that everybody had a good time at their annual outing held yesterday at North Lake park. Approximately 150 municipal employes took the afternoon off to enjoy the festivities. City councilmen, who last year trimmed the policemen and firemen to win the softball championship, suffered a 6 to 4 defeat at the hands of the smoke eaters in a three-inning game. The police then took the firemen 11 to 4 in the twilight event. The women, too, had contests. The top photo shows participants in a doughnut eating contest. In case you can't recognize them they are, reading from left to right, Mary Jane Bellore, bookkeeper in the garbage department; City Building Telephone Operator Betty Mae Thompson; Deputy Municipal Court Clerk, Isabelle Gertsmyer; Visiting Nurse Faye Chamberlain, (back turned) Loretta Fink, clerk in the health department; Nurse Mrs. Robert E. tor and Robert C. Knee, secretary of the Ohio State Moose association.

State and supreme lodge officials will be introduced and dancing and entertainment in the Moose club rooms will follow.

Outstanding figures to be here during the four-day session are headed by James J. Davis, U. S. senator from Pennsylvania, who is director general in the Moose organization and M. M. Neely, supreme governor-elect. Senator Davis is to arrive in Mansfield tonight and Neely will be here Saturday, lodge officials said.

Always holding the spotlight of state Moose conventions, the parade of delegates set for Saturday at 3 p. m. is expected to pack Mansfield's downtown with spectators.

Floyd F. Dent, special parade marshal, said today that 17 bands have been booked including some of Ohio's best military bands, and outstanding high school musical organizations. Lodges in each district have entered floats in the parade expected to run at least three miles long. Forming west of the Park avenue west and Bowman street intersection, the parade line will march through the business district.

Taylor Mast, Mansfield parachute jumper, will signal the start of the parade when he leaps from an airplane over Central park, unfurling an American flag as he floats to earth.

Business sessions will start tomorrow at at 9:30 a. m. with the registration of delegates at the Mansfield-Leland hotel followed by a meeting at 10 a. m. by the organization of committees.

The first business meeting for all Moose members will take place in the Grotto hall at 2 p. m. Friday with Campbell, state president, presiding.

Moose members will hear reports from the state secretary, the regional director, the nominating committee and the state officers at this meeting before guests of the convention are introduced.

Scheduled for 6 p. m. a dinner for state and supreme lodge officers will be held at North Lake park pavilion Friday evening before initiation of a new class of candidates to the Mansfield lodge.

The initiation of at least 400 candidates will take place at Eagles hall at 8 p. m. and will feature ritual work by the Moose state champion ritual team from Elmwood Place lodge.

Entertainment and dancing at the Moose club will conclude activities of the day at the Moose club following the initiation.

Registration at the Mansfield-Leland hotel at 9:30 a. m. will begin activities for Saturday. With meetings slated until noon, unfinished business will be completed at the hotel's ballroom, and officers will be elected at the Moose temple while a ritual contest is held in the Moose meeting room and drill teams compete at the Eagles hall.

Following the morning activities, Malcolm R. Giles, supreme secretary, will preside over a luncheon-breakfast of lodge officers at 1 p. m. at the Mansfield-Leland hotel at which time new state officers will be installed.

An alumni banquet for men and women of the Moose presided over by Deputy McFarland at the hotel and dancing at the Moose club will conclude activities scheduled for Saturday.

Sunday, with business meeting concluded, delegates and Mansfield Moose members will attend services of Mansfield churches and a fellowship luncheon at 12:30 p. m. which will conclude all organized activities of the convention.

forces, ran out of gas and landed in territory controlled by the 37th division.

Captured, he was being sent to the rear in a Blue force truck when an advance detachment of Reds ambushed and captured the vehicle and drove safely back to their own lines, pausing only to capture a few odd Blues along the way.

Safe behind his own lines, the lieutenant was told it would be all right for him to return to retrieve his personal belongings from the plane.

The lieutenant returned, obtained the equipment, and flagged down a car to ride back. The machine stopped and Brig. Gen. Ludwig Connely of Cleveland, commanding officer of the 73rd infantry brigade of the 37th popped out.

The lieutenant was taken to the division command post and informed that regardless of what he had been told, he was once more a prisoner. Someone on the Red side had slipped, the general supposed.

"Phooey," growled the airman, "these umpires must have trained with the Dodgers."

AN INDEPENDENT NEWSPAPER

MANSFIELD, OHIO, THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 18, 1941

Strange that nobody has suggested a referendum vote on the new tax bill.

"Why don't you studdy histery?" writes one of his severest critics to an erudite commentator on public affairs.

Word comes that "a mysterious ailment which swells the head has been found in the interior of Brazil"—but what's mysterious about that, haven't you noticed the same thing many times, much closer than Brazil?

Welcome To Visiting Moose

ONE of Mansfield's good fortunes is to have rather frequent opportunity to entertain groups of visitors, sometimes large, sometimes small—but always welcome to make this their meeting place for state, district or county conventions and conferences.

It gives special pleasure, this week-end, to extend greetings and a cordial welcome to the several thousand men and women of the Ohio State Moose Association who will be in attendance at the twelfth annual state convention which opens today and extends through Sunday.

Organized in 1888, with its first lodge established in Cincinnati, the Moose lodge, or Loyal Order of Moose, as it is officially known, has enjoyed steady growth and found widespread opportunities for distribution of its fraternal benefits, based on principles of brotherhood and service to others.

Those who have been privileged to visit the wonderful institution of Mooseheart, near Aurora, Ill., designed to provide a home and schooling for orphans of members and to care for dependents, cannot fail to be impressed with the fine principles and humanitarian spirit which inspired and maintains this worthy movement and which gives an affirmative answer to the old-time query, "Am I my brother's keeper?"

The News-Journal expresses hope that visiting Moose lodgemen and their ladies will enjoy their visit in Mansfield and that their convention sessions will prove pleasant and profitable, to the end that the principles and practices of this organization may be more widely extended throughout this and other states.

When a Few Endanger Many

ACTION taken a couple of nights ago by electrical workers in Kansas City savored more of Halloween hoodlumism than intelligent behavior of presumably capable craftsmen.

Promptly at midnight master switches at the electric power plant were thrown by strikers and the city was plunged in darkness—apparently without thought of what might happen to the city's transportation system, water supply, hospitals and other services affecting 400,000 persons.

It was another of organized labor's "jurisdictional" disputes, in which the public interest was entirely disgarded by men assumed to be worthy of confidence.

The privilege of collective bargaining, and the right to strike have been accorded governmental and public acceptance, as intended safeguards of workers, but these jurisdictional squabbles which have been plaguing the country are so misrepresentative of what have been regarded as the legitimate aims of organized labor that it becomes apparent some steps must be taken to prevent recurrence of such acts against the public as were committed in Kansas City—and not so long ago in Detroit, where the municipal transportation system was tied up by a jurisdictional strike.

No Curb On Needless Spending

NEEDS of the defense program are now being used as an alibi for the unprecedently swift rise in our national debt. But that alibi cannot stand up on analysis.

The treasury's own figures tell the tale. In the fiscal year ended June 30, federal expenditures were $12,600,000,000. About half of that sum went for defense purposes.

What is happening is simply this: The staggering cost of defense is being piled on top of an exorbitant "depression" federal budget which has not been cut in a single important particular. The waste goes on. The overlapping and duplication of activity goes on. All the costly, needless "luxuries" and political tax-exempt business projects on which the government embarked during the depression in competition with highly-taxed private business, are being maintained as usual.

While it is properly being pointed out that "all must sacrifice for defense," how about politicians sacrificing some of their pork-barrel activities which are driving this nation down the road to bankruptcy?

Wage Demands of Railroad Workers

WHILE a five-man board, appointed by President Roosevelt, is endeavoring to ascertain facts in connection with demands of railroad employes for wage increases totaling in excess of $900,000,000 a year, it is of public interest to consider the vastness of that amount of money.

An authoritative compilation reveals that $900,000,000 is more than four times the sum that congress has authorized to be distributed to farmers this year in parity payments on the basic crops.

It is more than the value of all the wheat and potatoes produced in the United States in 1939.

It is more than the total annual gross revenue of the United States postal department.

It would take every cent of the total railroad freight revenue for the first two and one-half months of this year.

While American railway employment has, generally speaking, been the best paid in the world, with extremely favorable working conditions and hour limitations, the present demand for higher wages is in such accord with a general trend that it appears quite natural—even to the strike vote.

Considering, however, that the $900,000,000 wage increase demanded is 20 times the average net income of the nation's railroad industry during the ten years which ended in 1940, and that on this basis of wages the railroads would have lost $600,000,000 last year, it would seem that the leadership of the 1,250,000 railroad employes has disregarded all other phases of railway operating and maintenance costs in computing desired wage increases.

The work of the fact-finding board must necessarily cover a broader field, as equipment, management, capital investment and tax-paying ability are also essential to successful railroad operation.

New $5-a-Year Tax on Motorists

—By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON—Tucked away in the $3,500,000,000 federal tax bill is a little-discussed tax which some pretty shrewd observers of John Q. Taxpayer's reactions say is going to cause more squawks than anything else in the whole measure.

It's the $5 "use tax" on motor vehicles. It means very plainly that every one of the 32,000,000 owners of trucks, buses and private automobiles in the land will have to fork over $5 a year, beginning Feb. 1, 1942, for the privilege of using their vehicles.

The auto people and the American Automobile Association (which has withdrawn its traditional opposition to any tax on auto transportation for the duration of national defense) gave me this analysis of the new tax.

FIRST, it should be pointed out that the fewer cars the next year or so, the better for national defense (because of needed materials) and anything that taxation does to reduce the number will have the double-barreled benefit of bringing in revenue and saving those materials. Then, too, when there is anything on which you can slap a little $5 tax and add $160,000,000 to the Treasury's income it's not to be tossed off because of a few squawks. At least, that's the way the tax framers must have reasoned.

To go back to the other side of the picture, the $5 "use tax" is in addition to a doubling of existing rates on cars, parts, accessories, tires and tubes and a continuation of the tax on gasoline and lubricating oils. This, according to the AAA, means that motorists will pay $300,000,000 more in federal taxes next year, bringing their total federal tax payment for operating a car to approximately $750,000,000.

These taxes are in addition to all state, county and city taxes (on jalopies and their drivers) of which there are by actual count 14 different varieties. Although not all of these bloom in any section, majority do in many.

THE thing about some of them (and all of the federal taxes) is that, until now, you couldn't see them unless you looked at the bill of sale, or the posted price of gasoline and oil.

With the "use tax" it's going to be different. It will be just $5 across the counter, with maybe a little sticker for the windshield or another little receipt to add to the file of "debts paid." Congress handed the Treasury the "use tax" without any instructions for collection and about the only method suggested so far is that stickers be put on sale at postoffices.

The real pay-off on this little item is that congress made it effective Feb. 1, 1942. Since the federal tax year does not begin until July 1, that means that every motorist, truck owner and such will have to come in on Feb. 1 and pay five-twelfths of $5 or $2.08 (providing the government drops the one-third cent) to use his vehicle until July 1.

One of the theories advanced by sponsors of the tax is that it will help to make the country tax-conscious and the little man proud of the fact that he is contributing to national defense. The wiseacres say "just wait and see."

It could be that this little undiscussed tax will turn out to be one of the real touchstones of American temper.

Voodoo Goes On

—By ELSIE ROBINSON

IT WAS HOT, out there in the jungle? Stinking, steamy hot in the grass hut, thatched close with moldering leaves.

Outside, in the dense shadow where the sun never shone, the light lay in a thick, green, stagnant slime. Inside, a withered creature huddled over a pit dug in the earth floor. Muttered over a pot that simmered slowly, sending out retching odors as a wrinkled claw dropped fragments into its dark brew.

Impossible to tell what those fragments were . . . horrors that could only be guessed in the brief flickers from the pit beneath the pot. But steadily the wrinkled hand, crusted with filth, went on, dropping, dropping. And, as steadily, the toothless jaws muttered . . . muttered . . . while the darkness thickened . . . oozed toward dawn. Then, weaving through the jungle mist, slinking, stooping, squirming. Something raced—left its mark on a man's doorsill.

In a week that man was dead. What had killed him? That foul-smelling Voodoo mess of clay, blood, nail shavings, chicken feathers? So his native neighbors believed. But looking deeper the wiser white man who ruled them, knew that something infinitely more potent than Voodoo had murdered that man. He was young, healthy, happy. But he had died of Fear . . . of his belief in Fear.

THAT is a true story. I can give you names and dates, but they are unimportant. Such incidents occur, every day, in lands which we call "savage." Reading of them, we shudder. But it does not occur to us to shudder when we hear of them happening in our own "civilized" nation.

Yet they do occur right here in America. Not only in the everglades of Florida nor in the bayous of Lousiana, but in the apartment across the hall of your swank hotel . . . in the gleaming splendor of a chrome-and-bleached-walnut office.

Wherever men work, think and dream, whatever their ancestry or education, Voodoo goes on. Fear takes its toll.

For every man who dies in the jungle of disease or injury, a score die of FEAR. There is nothing in that mess which they find upon their door-sills or beneath their sleeping mats, to cause death. BUT THERE IS SOMETHING IN THEIR OWN SKULLS WHICH CAN AND DOES CAUSE DEATH.

And, by the same token, the white man kills himself . . . not because a Medicine Man has mingled filth with fouler mutterings . . . but because he has let the filth of fear enter his own brain.

We try to save our lives with vitamins, exercises, diets, X-rays and metabolisms. And, all the while, we kill ourselves with withering prejudices, imaginary persecutions, and frustrations, poisonous . . . Fear in its endless, deadly manifestations.

It was dark in the jungle . . . stinky, steamy dark in the grass hut, thatched close with moldering leaves, where a Creature crouched, huddled over a reeking pot.

BUT IT CAN BE AS DARK IN YOUR CHARMING HOME . . . AS DEADLY IN THOSE HOURS WHEN YOU GIVE WAY TO DESPAIR. THE MIND IS A MOLDERING HUT . . . BEWARE ITS MUTTERINGS!

Timely Editorial

Hunting Fatalities.

Unless past experience fails, some 900 persons in the United States will be killed accidentally by firearms in hunting accidents during the fall and winter period which opened this week in Ohio with the beginning of the squirrel season. Data gathered by one of the larger insurance companies is the source of these figures.

Nearly half of the fatalities—45 per cent to be exact—will be self-inflicted. The victim will be shot while climbing over or through a fence, dragging his weapon after him, by falling or tripping or because of some other clumsiness or carelessness in handling his gun. About 35 per cent of those killed will be plugged by an excited or uncautious companion and about 15 per cent will be struck by the gunfire of a stranger or member of some other hunting party who either will fail to take proper precaution or will mistake the hapless nimrod or some part of his anatomy for a game bird or animal.—Columbus Dispatch.

Washington Merry-Go-Round

Former Bugaboo of Big Business Performs Miracles for Clients

—By DREW PEARSON and ROBERT S. ALLEN

WASHINGTON—Advice to American businessmen having trouble with Uncle Sam: Hire as your Washington attorney the famous ex-Brain Truster Tom Corcoran.

"Tommy the Cork," one-time closest man to Roosevelt, has now gone into the private practice of law, and he is performing as many miracles for big business as he once performed for Roosevelt against big business.

Latest and most amazing miracle was the recent pat on the head given to Sterling Products and subsidiaries by the justice department when the drug companies were permitted to plead nolle contendere on a criminal charge of conspiring with Nazi Germany to violate the Sherman Anti-Trust Act. ("Nolle contendere" means that the defendant puts in no defense: it pleads neither guilty nor not guilty).

Other American firms charged with similar practices have been castigated by the justice department. The Bausch and Lomb Optical company was indicted criminally for conspiring commercially with Germany and had to plead guilty. The Aluminum Corporation of America suffered likewise because it had a deal with I. G. Farbenindustrie regarding magnesium.

Justice department press statements regarding those firms bristle with criticism, and there is still talk around the justice department of trying to send Arthur Davis, head of ALCOA to jail. He has been indicted.

But ALCOA is an Andrew Mellon company; and neither it nor Bausch and Lomb had the presence of mind to hire Thomas G. Corcoran.

Sterling Products, Mr. Corcoran's client, was in almost the same boat as the Aluminum Corporation, having had a deal with I. G. Farbenindustrie. In fact, Sterling Products is closely affiliated with this big Nazi firm, and after Roosevelt imposed a blacklist on Nazi firms in Latin America, Sterling took over the distribution of German drug products in South America, actually printing the labels in the U.S.A. to look like the German product. It also turned over large amounts of money to the German firm.

New Dealers to Rescue.

ON THE other side of the picture, Sterling Products not only had Tommy the Cork as its counsel, but it had Dave Corcoran, brother of the Brain Truster, as vice-president of a Sterling subsidiary. And to be absolutely safe, it also retained John Cahill, ex-U. S. attorney of New York and close friend of Corcoran's.

Cahill was indefatigable at indicting Hollywood moguls who were forgetful about their income tax. And now he is equally indefatigable in defending a big corporation from charges of conspiring commercially with the Nazis.

How much Sterling Products paid their New Deal attorneys is not known. But whatever it was, they earned it. Tommy the Cork came down to the justice department, badgered Thurman Arnold's subordinates, brought out the fact that he was being considered as the next solicitor General, shined up to his old friend Attorney General Biddle.

In the past Assistant Attorney General Thurman Arnold has kicked over the traces like a balky mule whenever anyone attempted to interfere with his trust-busting program. Several times he has threatened to resign, even insisted on indicting Bill Hutchinson, head of the AFL Carpenters' union, and other labor leaders for violating the Sherman Anti-Trust act—an indictment which got the White House very sore indeed.

But this time Thurman was more docile. Maybe this was because Tommy the Cork is a very close friend. Again, Earl I. McClintock, vice-president of Sterling Products, was Princeton '12, and an old friend of Thurman Arnold's, Princeton '11.

Anyway, Tommy got his clients off with a fine of $26,000 and a press release which sounded like "be a good boy now and don't do it any more."

Note—Homer Cummings was frequently criticized by Tom Corcoran for not being a crusading New Deal attorney general. But Cummings, now a Washington lawyer, spurned a $100,000 retainer from General Aniline, which is controlled by the Nazi I. G. Farbenindustrie, and is a partner with Sterling Products in owning the Winthrop Chemical Company, also prosecuted by the justice department. Cummings told the Nazi-controlled company they had no chance of forming a trust arrangement to escape wartime seizure by an Alien Property Custodian.

Capital Chaff.

SOME of Thurman Arnold's Trust-Busting subordinates will soon hand in their resignations as a result of the new appeasement policy toward the Sherman Anti-Trust Act. . . . Earl McClintock executive of Sterling Products, was in the alien property custodian's office during the last war when the U. S. A. seized valuable German chemical patents. After the war, McClintock helped form a company which took over these patents—but went back to close co-operation with Germany. . . . After a quarter of a century in the senate, Henry Fountain Ashurst is more alert and looks better than ever. He says the fountain of perennial youth is to take thirty minutes' rest after lunch each day. . . . Morris L. Cooke is getting out in disgust over the way the administration is treating little business. He has been one of the champions of little business in the national defense set-up.

Pappy's Payroll.

IN ADDITION to "passing the the biscuits," Senator "Pappy" O'Daniel of Texas, also has become a specialist at passing the gravy.

Pappy's biggest problem since becoming a senator has been getting Uncle Sam to pay the salaries of his hill-billy band, which supplies the musical background for his Sunday radio recordings. But at the pace he is going, it won't be long until he has it solved.

Four members of the band are already on the federal payroll. Bundy Bratcher, a cornetist, is doubling up as an elevator operator in the Capitol at a $125-a-month salary. Winsome "Texas Rose" Richardson; Pappy's girl vocalist, gets $105 a month in the folding section of the senate document room.

"Cesar" Hubbard, a fiddler, and Bill Perrin, leader of the band, hold down $145-a-month jobs in the senate post office. Their chief duty is selling penny postcards to the tourist trade.

A fifth hill-billy, "Klondike" Hubbard, (brother of "Caesar,") a bass fiddler, expects to land something soon with Pappy's help.

Note:—Friends are suggesting a new theme song for Pappy's band, to the tune of "It Ain't Gonna Rain No More:"

"Oh, pass the biscuits, Pappy,
"And pass the gravy, too—
"We'll gratefully loll
"On the federal payroll,
"As we sing and play for you."

Tucker Takes Look Around

—By GEORGE TUCKER

MIAMI—"Time to get up," said the night operator at the Dempsey-Vanderbilt. "It's 5:30."

As I stumbled into some old slacks I could see day breaking over the Atlantic. . . . If you could see land it would be Africa. . . . There was only a tanker, about six miles out, heading south.

We had coffee at Pappy's and taxied to the Gulf Fishing Dock, where Capt. George Jepson of the yacht Jeanne was stripping boneta for bait and ready to shove off.

"It's a fine day," he said, "it's choppy. We'll get 'em."

The mate climbed on top of the yacht and blew three blasts on a ramshorn, and the causeway gate opened. . . . In a few moments later we were nearing the Gulf Stream, three miles off the Miami Beach coastline. . . .

IT'S funny about the coloring of the Gulf Stream. . . . It's deep blue. . . . When you enter it, or leave it, the coloring changes abruptly into a shimmering green. That's where the sailfish play. Hooking them is one thing. Landing them is another. . . . Yesterday, Captain Jepson's party had eight sail on the line. . . . Not one was landed.

We hit the Gulf Stream and the mate rigged the outriggers and we began trolling with boneta (Spanish for beautiful). . . . We fished hard all day, but with the exception of two boneta and a strike from a barracuda, our luck seemed to be taking a holiday.

Capt. Jepson, a wiry, thin New Englander, who came south 27 years ago, remained in his "crows nest," calling to the sails. . . . He called to them all day. . . . He kept yelling, "Come on, you devils. . . ."

"Look out for the right rigger," he suddenly screamed. Somewhere astern the short, powerful sword of an Atlantic sailfish dealt the boneta bait a crippling blow. It freed the line from the right rigger. . . . As it dritted astern and began to straighten out, my heart began to pound like something awful and terrible. Then the captain was screaming "He's got it—give it to him."

When that happens on a sailfish hunt, you set the hook—hard—not once, but two, three times. . . . Then you brace yourself and prepare to have your arms jerked out of your armpits. . . .

THEY told me, 19 minutes later, that except for a few amateurish mistakes I did fairly well. . . . They said, "You got him, didn't you?" . . . He was there, all right, seven feet and one inch of him, 50 pounds of him, all gleaming alive with shimmering halftones of blues. . . . And then those gorgeous colors began to wane and grow dim. . . . They do that when they die, and they die so easily. . . . That is one of the sad things about taking so beautiful and magnificent a creature. . . . They die so easily.

That was a new experience for me—one of the most exciting half hours of my life. It was 6 a. m. when we went aboard and it was 6:10 p. m. when the hook went home. . . . The mate ran a white flag up in the age old tradition of the sport, so that all might know a sail had been taken. . . .

But, I still hadn't pulled an Ernest Hemingway. . . . His—a world's record—weighed 118 lbs.

A Farmer's Diary

History Repeats

—By CALVIN A. BYERS

I DROVE with my wife along a hilltop road and we parked to watch the moon come up. (Oh, yes, we're guilty of things like that, even at our age.) Above us an orchard stood, shadowy and sweet scented. Below us, rows of corn shocks, the first this year, stood out like the vanguard of an approaching army. There is something stirring always, about those first long rows of new-cut corn.

Then moonlight touched the valley's rim and overflowed, filling the night with enchantment. Drifts of valley fog were silvered—the tree-lined stream became a shadowy, secretive, zigzag line. Each corn shock trailed a shadow.

We sat in silence, hearing the katydids, the distant hoot owls, the crickets' chirp. A little breeze whispered through the orchard and fanned our faces. All but the brightest stars were blotted out.

In the distance we saw another car approaching. We switched on our lights so he would not run into us. The coming headlights blazed into our eyes, and as the other auto swished by, showering us with gravel, we heard a radio voice blare out—"GREATEST BATTLE—TWO MILLION MEN KILLED — WAKE UP, AMERICA!"

After that, the charm of the quiet moonlight did not come back. The world was too much with us. We found ourselves talking of bombers and planes and tanks as though we had seen them, black against the moon. The owl's plaintive note became a harbinger of trouble. Hungry children's faces seemed to peer from behind the shocks of corn. The wavering line of the distant stream became an advancing enemy—the silvery puffs of fog became acrid smoke.

Down along the valley, at just that moment, a group of boys and girls lit a bonfire. Flames spurted brightly up—we heard light laughter and saw young figures silhouetted there. Then somebody started a song — they call it 'swing,' we used to call it 'ragtime' years ago—but it echoed now, in our hearts, with the sting of tears.

"Johnny, get your gun — get your gun—get your GUN!"

With something like an unuttered prayer, our two hands found each other in a fervent clasp that everyone not too young will understand. Then we went home.

CLASSES ELECT

Madison School Officers Get Ready For Year's Program.

Announcement was made today by Wayne E Miller, Madison high school principal, of the winners in an election held Friday by pupils to choose class officers and advisors.

Senior class faculty advisors are William Kopcial and Eileen Stout. Officers are Eugene Batson, president; George Petrovic, vice president; Jack Shellhass, secretary and Reynolds, treasurer.

Paul Monett and Lenore Mills will fill faculty advisor positions for the Junior class with Delbert Poston elected president; LaDonna Harrison, vice president; Ada Hahn, secretary and William Wynn, treasurer.

The Sophomore class will have but one faculty advisor, Margaret Yarian. Student officers elected are Joann Baer, president; Joe Harfman, vice, president; Wesley Willner, secretary and Maxine Garron, treasurer.

Although Charles Vanderbilt will act as faculty advisor for the freshmen class, Miller said class elections for the freshmen will be postponed until they have a longer opportunity to "get acquainted."

HEADACHES – GAS ATTACKS – NERVOUS FROM CONSTIPATION
Ohio Lady Finds Williams Formula Brings Prompt Relief

MRS. BEN FROLLEY

Throughout Ohio, Williams Formula has made thousands of friends and many users are so grateful for it they make public statements, praising it to others. Typical of these letters is the statement of Mrs. Ben Frolley, well-known resident of Ashland, Ohio (507 Virginia avenue). She says: "I was weak and nervous as a result of gas pains and bloating that was distressing me. I didn't like this at all so decided to try Williams Formula and am glad I did. I began to receive relief shortly after starting and now these gas pains have been splendidly relieved. I am not so nervous and as I feel more like eating my appetite has improved, and I feel stronger, and sleep [illegible] night. This is why I [illegible] others will be glad too if they try WILLIAMS FORMULA for themselves."

When you know how much such relief can mean—isn't it important that you come in today to the Hursh Drug Store for your Williams Formula — 3 economical sizes. Don't put off another day trying Williams Formula yourself.

THEATERS

Comedy Team.

Carrying a rip-roaring story as a means of holding together their zany dialog and gags, Bud Abbott and Lou Costello appear in "Hold That Ghost," the movie at the Ohio through Friday. Opening in a night club, where Ted Lewis and his band and the Andrew Sissters supply the entertainment, the story moves speedily to a gas station where the boys accidentally become entangled with a gangster, inheriting the deserted inn when he is slain by police.

Murder Mystery.

Showing on Friday only at the Madison is "Ellery Queen and the Perfect Crime," an exciting murder mystery in one of a popular series. Queen has many suspects to choose from but after much tracking the famous inspector finds his man. Ralph Bellamy and Margaret Lindsay lead the large all star cast.

Prize Ring.

"Covered Wagon Trails," starring Jack Randall, is one of the features of the west showing at the Ritz through Saturday. Co-attraction is "Knockout," a film of the prize ring with a novel twist. Arthur Kennedy plays the role of a pug who could handle himself admirably in the ring but not out of it. Olympe Bradna has the leading feminine role as Kennedy's devoted wife.

Plays Double Role.

One of the most hilarious shows of the season is "The Gay Vagabond," showing Thursday, Friday and Saturday at the Park. Roscoe Karns and Ruth Donnelly are co-starred in this domestic comedy. Karns plays a unique double role, that of the twin brothers, Arthur and Jerry Dixon, one backward and henpecked and the other a bold and hardy soldier of fortune. Second feature is "Prairie Pioneers," starring the three mesquiteers.

CAN'T KEEP GRANDMA IN HER CHAIR
She's as Lively as a Youngster—Now her Backache is better
Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys.
The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.
When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.
Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

URGES MEN TO REGISTER FOR JOB TRAINING

Handley Says U. S. Prepared To Spend $43,000 For Defense Classes.

Declaring that Ohio defense industries are still short of trained workers, especially machinists and sheet metal workers, C. W. Handley, manager of the Mansfield office of the Ohio Bureau of Unemployment compensation, said today that the government was prepared to spend $43,000 locally for training men needed for defense jobs.

At Mansfield Senior high school, three months courses in welding, sheet metal work and operation of defense machinery are in progress now with three to six-hour sessions running from 6 p. m. to 6 a. m. every day.

Handley stressed the fact that these courses are given free to applicants registered with the Bureau of Unemployment Compensation, and said that the bureau could handle 300 applicants immediately, placing them in training as soon as they had registered and received their referral cards to the school. New classes will be organized Sept. 22.

All instructors, equipment and other necessary materials will be furnished by the government and the board of education, he said.

Applicants may enroll for three or six hours per night, according to whether or not they are presently employed, and must be between the ages of 18-50. Additional information may be obtained by calling at the bureau office located at 50 North Diamond street.

DELAY HEARING

NLRB Session on CIO Request For Election Postponed.

Postponement of the hearing by the National Labor Relations board on a petition of the United Electrical, Radio and Machine workers, Local No. 758, seeking recognition as the sole bargaining agent for workers in the Ohio Brass company Mansfield plant was announced today by Richard Niebur, union field organizer.

Hugh E. Sperry, regional director of the eighth region of the NLRB, telegraphed Niebur that the hearing would be held Wednesday at 10 a. m. in the Richland county common pleas court here. The hearing had originally been scheduled for Friday.

Niebur said today that the hearing did not concern grievances on the part of the union, but was a request that either the union be recognized as the sole bargaining agent for the workers or that an election be held to find the bargaining agent. Niebur said such a request by the union was in accordance with labor laws of the United States.

THEATERS

Comedy Team.

Carrying a rip-roaring story as a means of holding together their zany dialog and gags, Bud Abbott and Lou Costello appear in "Hold That Ghost," the movie at the Ohio through Friday. Opening in a night club, where Ted Lewis and his band and the Andrew Sisters supply the entertainment, the story moves speedily to a gas station where the boys accidentally become entangled with a gangster, inheriting the deserted inn when he is slain by police.

Murder Mystery.

Showing on Friday only at the Madison is "Ellery Queen and the Perfect Crime," an exciting murder mystery in one of a popular series. Queen has many suspects to choose from but after much tracking the famous inspector finds his man. Ralph Bellamy and Margaret Lindsay lead the large all star cast.

Prize Ring.

"Covered Wagon Trails," starring Jack Randall, is one of the features of the west showing at the Ritz through Saturday. Co-attraction is "Knockout," a film of the prize ring with a novel twist. Arthur Kennedy plays the role of a pug who could handle himself admirably in the ring but not out of it. Olympe Bradna has the leading feminine role as Kennedy's devoted wife.

Plays Double Role.

One of the most hilarious shows of the season is "The Gay Vagabond," showing Thursday, Friday and Saturday at the Park. Roscoe Karns and Ruth Donnelly are co-starred in this domestic comedy. Karns plays a unique double role, that of the twin brothers, Arthur and Jerry Dixon, one backward and henpecked and the other a bold and hardy soldier of fortune. Second feature is "Prairie Pioneers," starring the three mesquiteers.

BANK ON WHEELS.

SEATTLE, Wash. —(U.P.)— Payday at Boeing Aircraft company is as streamlined as the giant Flying Fortress. A "bank on wheels" comes around each payday and, for a minimum charge of 10 cents, cashes checks. The mobile bank is an armored car, replete with bandit-proof pay windows and armed guards.

FOR TAXES, 400 NICKELS

SELLERSVILLE, Pa. —(U.P.)— County Treasurer Samuel L. Althouse was somewhat puzzled when a woman handed him a heavy bag. "What's this?" he queried. "Four hundred nickels. I wish to pay my delinquent taxes with them," she replied.

CAN'T KEEP GRANDMA IN HER CHAIR
She's as Lively as a Youngster—Now her Backache is better
Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys.
The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.
When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.
Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

URGES MEN TO REGISTER FOR JOB TRAINING

Handley Says U. S. Prepared To Spend $43,000 For Defense Classes.

Declaring that Ohio defense industries are still short of trained workers, especially machinists and sheet metal workers, C. W. Handley, manager of the Mansfield office of the Ohio Bureau of Unemployment compensation, said today that the government was prepared to spend $43,000 locally for training men needed for defense jobs.

At Mansfield Senior high school, three months courses in welding, sheet metal work and operation of defense machinery are in progress now with three to six-hour sessions running from 6 p. m. to 6 a. m. every day.

Handley stressed the fact that these courses are given free to applicants registered with the Bureau of Unemployment Compensation, and said that the bureau could handle 300 applicants immediately, placing them in training as soon as they had registered and received their referral cards to the school. New classes will be organized Sept. 22.

All instructors, equipment and other necessary materials will be furnished by the government and the board of education, he said.

Applicants may enroll for three or six hours per night, according to whether or not they are presently employed, and must be between the ages of 18-50. Additional information may be obtained by calling at the bureau office located at 50 North Diamond street.

DELAY HEARING

NLRB Session on CIO Request For Election Postponed.

Postponement of the hearing by the National Labor Relations board on a petition of the United Electrical, Radio and Machine workers, Local No. 758, seeking recognition as the sole bargaining agent for workers in the Ohio Brass company Mansfield plant was announced today by Richard Niebur, union field organizer.

Hugh E. Sperry, regional director of the eighth region of the NLRB, telegraphed Niebur that the hearing would be held Wednesday at 10 a. m. in the Richland county common pleas court here. The hearing had originally been scheduled for Friday.

Niebur said today that the hearing did not concern grievances on the part of the union, but was a request that either the union be recognized as the sole bargaining agent for the workers or that an election be held to find the bargaining agent. Niebur said such a request by the union was in accordance with labor laws of the United States.

Presbyterian Ceremony

Miss Holt Becomes Bride of Alexander Hamilton on Wednesday.

BEFORE an altar banked with palms and ferns Miss Dawn O'Joy Holt exchanged nuptial vows with Alexander Hamilton, jr., Wednesday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at the First Presbyterian church. Rev. David N. Roller read the service for the pretty ceremony, witnessed by friends and relatives. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl B. Knightstep, West Fourth street road, and Mr. Hamilton's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Hamilton, sr., 220 North Mulberry street.

In a street length frock of Defense blue sheer the bride approached the altar. Her accessories were in wine shade and she wore a corsage of pink roses and swansonia.

Miss Ruth Eileen Ute, of Mansfield, classmate and close friend of the bride, was her only attendant. She wore a navy blue ensemble with contrasting powder blue trim and accessories Her corsage was composed of red roses.

Mrs. Knightstep wore a black frock with white trim and matching accessories for the ceremony. Mrs. Hamilton's ensemble was in blue with navy accessories. Both mothers wore corsages of pink roses.

John Hamilton, brother of the bridegroom, was best man.

A short program of nuptial music was played by Miss Mabel Zehner, organist, whose selections were "Dreams" by McAmis, "Liebestraum" by Liszt and the wedding marches.

A small reception followed the ceremony with 30 guests in attendance at the church. Refreshments were served in the church parlors with a tiered cake topped by a miniature bride and bridegroom, centering the table.

Late in the afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton left for a trip through the eastern states. The bride wore a light blue-gray suit with wine accessories for traveling. After Oct. 1 the young couple will return to Mansfield to reside at 580½ Marion avenue.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton were graduated from Mansfield Senior high school. He is employed at the Empire Sheet and Tin Plate company.

Out-of-town guests present were Mr. and Mrs Willis Bixby and Mr. and Mrs. George May of Norwalk and Miss Roberta Speigle of Galion.

"The Authority on Authorities"

DON'T HELP DECLARER

THERE ARE just three kinds of occasions on which you should double your opponent's slam contract. One of these is when you are certain to beat it, no matter how he plays the hand and even if he should then shift the declaration to another suit or No Trump. The second is when you are trying to cause your partner to make an opening lead different from the expected one and tell him so by doubling. The third is when your opponent has made a palpable sacrifice bid which you can punish terrifically and you are trying to keep your partner from bidding a slam of your own over it. At other times especially if your double can help the declarer play the hand successfully, your job is to pass.

After West led his spade 2 to the Q. South surveyed the situation and decided to count on West for three trumps to the Q. He therefore cashed the heart K and led the heart 2 to the 10 and J. The heart A then dropped the Q and ended all chance of his being beaten.

Next he led the diamond 2 from dummy. East covering with the Q and the A winning. The diamond 3 then was sent to the 10 and K. The club 4 was ruffed the spade A used as an entry to take the marked finesse of the diamond 8 the J dropped the 9 making the 6 good and South finished with two trump tricks.

If West had not doubled South would have taken the diamond K and A on the first two rounds setting up the Q for West and causing defeat of his contract as he also had to lose a diamond trick.

"Pitfalls of Love"

(A Sequel to Marriage Meddlers)

By ADELE GARRISON

'Yes, I understand," Ronald answered and his voice was so filled with humility and contrition that for an instant I was remorseful for my forced sternness. But only for an instant. After all, I told myself he was in the excited and rebellious mood when only rigid discipline would avail.

'Then listen carefully. I told him. 'First I am going to give you what little information I have but I warn you it will be sketchy. My father never gives any vital information out until after his plans are accomplished, you know.'

Ronald gulped a tremulous "Yes," in answer and I went swiftly on.

'First I said. Mary and I went over the little book, you understand what I mean—"

"Yes," he breathed.

"And we found much in it of value," my father said to tell you he was distinctly encouraged. But I cannot tell you another thing about it until you reach here."

'Oh!' Ronald exclaimed, added quickly, "yes, I understand."

'If your uncle Dicky does not need you and I do not think he will, you are to leave the car this morning at the first railroad station and come directly to the hotel here. You will be permitted to, and my father and your stay will be indefinite. Now please jot down these instructions. Have you pencil and paper there?"

The Intermediary.

'In a second,' he answered and almost immediately said 'Ready.'

'Pack your things as if you were going back to college after taking Carolyn to Wernhampton. Is there any person outside college so the call won't have to go over the college wires that you can trust to keep quiet about something which is not his affair?'

'Yes,' he said eagerly.

'Then telephone that man to get hold of your roommate, Bob and ask him to telephone you at the Lansfield this afternoon from an outside booth about an hour after your train gets in. Tell him to tell Bob to reverse the charge to me.' I added mindful of the general impecuniosity of students 'and impress on him that it is a most important message and that neither he nor Bob must say anything about it.

Tell your parents that you are going back to college," I went on, "but that you will not reach there before tomorrow. By that time my father will have arranged everything.'

How? Ronald blurted out then changed again to "Yes, I understand."

"Now here is the most important thing of all," I said. "Two men will be at the Dalemont station this morning when Uncle Dicky's train gets in. You will know them by little twisted wires in the upper coat buttonholes, but you will have to look sharp to distinguish them. They will wait on the platform or in the station until well after the train comes in and you are to indicate them to Uncle Dicky.

'They have been told by my father to contact Uncle Dicky," I went on. 'Tell him to identify himself to the men, and ask them what message they have from my father. Tell Uncle Dicky not to telephone me until he has talked to the men but then to call me up at the Lansfield before he leaves the station. And keep close to him, so that you may be of service to him if he needs you for anything."

I purposely had spoken slowly, and I knew that Ronald had intelligence enough so that he would write down only the important items he needed to remember. So, when I finished, I was not surprised when at my query, "Have you everything down?" he returned an emphatic 'Yes, I understand."

Madge's Instructions

"Then try to get some rest before that train arrives," I said. "You will need all the strength you can get and it will be two hours before the train gets in. Why don't you go home? You may answer questions now."

'I think I'll do that," he said.

"Set an alarm clock," I admonished him.

'I will but I don't think I'll need it," he said and I guessed that while he might lie down, he could not sleep until he had learned from my father's lips all that he would tell him about any clews to the mystery surrounding Marion.

'Then good-bye until I see you at Lansfield," I said and his answering 'Good-bye' while somber held a soupcon of encouragement in its tone.

I hung up the receiver and suddenly with the last task done the fatigue of mind and body which I had been unconsciously fighting caught up with me.

With a feeling of utter exhaustion I fairly flung myself on the bed, turned out the light, pulled a blanket over me for the air coming through the opened window was chilly, and knew nothing more until the telephone at my elbow shrilled a summons to me.

I reached out my hand, put the receiver to my ear and heard my father's voice, peremptory as it always is when he is working at something important.

'Margaret! I am coming to the hotel immediately," he said. 'Can you be ready to go with me to Lillian's as soon as Richard telephones and I shall have settled his itinerary?"

GRANGE CONVENES

SHELBY—Pamona grange will meet Thursday night at Shenandoah hall for the last traveling program. It will be given by the Columbia grange of Lexington.

HOROSCOPE

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Friday, Sept. 19.

Judging by the ruling astral forces the high tempo continues, with major events developing toward high goals by prior bold beginnings. However there may be the menace of some sudden disruptive and restrictive trend with upsets or abruptly changed plans or purposes. Difficult and disappointing situations may arise, these possibly due to nervous strain, physical depletion or even to some peculiar source of domestic, social or emotional stress. But shun peculiar public or group complications, avoid strife and impetuosity.

Those whose birthday it is may enjoy a year of outstanding success and progress, with much enterprise and activity, despite sudden turns or disintegrating forces, with necessity for postponements, changed plans or methods due to a tenacious obstacle. Such may be attributable to nervous tension, overwork, or physical depression or to domestic, emotional or social strains and stresses. There seems to be a strange group or community situation, best met by tact and affability rather than strife and impetuosity. Be alert to imposition, cautious with correspondence.

A child born on this day should be progressive and public-spirited, and should be successful despite peculiar reversals or frustrations, perhaps due to its own nervous tensity or sensitivity.

Deaf Mutes Turn Out Water Pump Pulleys For Ford

ROYAL OAK, Mich. —(NS) Leo Kuehn had an idea which he put to work and as a result, he and 16 other deaf mutes have been given the opportunity of supporting themselves in a gainful occupation from which their affliction would ordinarily bar them.

Up until 1933, Kuehn was employed by the Ford Motor company as a tool and die maker when he decided that he wanted to apply his knowledge in helping others in the same predicament as himself.

Ford was impressed and gave him a flying start by offering to purchase all the water pump pulleys he could turn out.

SET DATE FOR DRIVER EXAMS

Highway Patrolmen Announce Time and Places to Hold Tests For Motorists.

The Mansfield substation of the state highway patrol announced today dates for examinations for operators' licenses.

In order to take the examination the applicant must have a temporary instruction permit, which is valid for six months. The examination may be taken any time within that period, and the holder may drive on the permit if there is a licensed operator in the car with him.

Time and place for examinations for operators' licenses: Mansfield, 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. at the highway patrol substation the second Thursday of every month; Bucyrus, noon to 5 p. m. the fourth Wednesday of every month, at the state highway garage; Norwalk, third Wednesday, 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. at the state highway garage.

Mt. Gilead, the first Thursday, non to 5 p. m. at the courthouse; Ashland, the second Wednesday, 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. at the state highway garage; Millersburg, the second Tuesday, noon to 5 p. m. at the sheriff's office; and at Wooster, the third Wednesday, 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. at the state highway garage.

LOCOMOTIVES ON ORDER

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah. —(U.P.)—Forty mammoth new locomotives will be placed in service on Union Pacific railroad lines within the next year to care for increased transportation resulting from national defense needs, railway officials announced recently. Twenty of the locomotives will enter service this summer.

POLICE WRONG.

MEXICO, Mo. —(U.P.)— Police officers were sarcastic when a motorist they brought into court on a charge of passing a stop sign protested that there was no sign. A checkup disclosed that someone had dug the sign from the street and stolen it.

Wife Got FAT— No Longer Attractive LOST HUSBAND'S LOVE

The above headlines appeared in a New York newspaper in connection with a divorce trial that had attracted wide attention: "She was a beautiful woman" one witness testified, "but she got fat and is not attractive any more."

Thousands of women are getting fat and losing their appeal just because they do not know what to do. If you are fat, how would you like to lose some of it and at the same time gain in physical charm and attractiveness — more energy —greater activity?

Why not do what thousands of women have done to get rid of pounds of unwanted fat? Take ½ teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts (a famous English formula) in a glass of hot water every morning before breakfast and keep it up for thirty days. Cut out pastries and fatty meats and go light on white bread. Then weigh yourself and see how many pounds you have lost.

A bottle of Kruschen Salts will last you for 4 weeks and costs but little. Ask any druggist for a bottle of Kruschen, plain or new effervescent — sparkling — pleasant—and start today to lose fat. Satisfaction guaranteed or money back.

Eyes Sore? Tired?

GEN. JOHNSON:

By GEN. HUGH S. JOHNSON

WASHINGTON—There is almost no complaint about the increasing burden of taxes for defense. They bear unequally on various income classes because of the healthy principle of "ability to pay" but they bear equally within each class and that is enough to satisfy the American sense of justice.

Johnson

There is even less complaint of the selective service act. It also distinguishes between classes of men on the ground of age, dependency and essential employment, but it has operated with sympathy, common sense and remarkable impartiality. That also is enough for the American insistence on fair play.

Most of the taxes bear on income and, in many cases take no more than the defense effort has added or will add. They do not take property or life-savings or deprive people of their means of earning a living.

Conscription demands the sternest sacrifice that a man may be called upon to make in the service of his country—the devotion of his life during his service and the possible risk of his death.

But this is an inescapable obligation of every citizen, a universal obligation without which the life of this or any other nation would not be possible. That also seems to be either understood or instinctively felt and accepted by most of our people.

But what are we going to say about an application too ruthless, unstudied and headlong of some of the acknowledged and necessary principles of industrial mobilization for modern war—priorities without regard to established civilian services, employment, businesses, and property?

The recent meeting and organization of "little" business men to protest against economic extermination through failure to get supplies and inability to get defense orders or to adapt their facilities to them is an example of what is meant here.

Unlike taxation or military service, there is certainly no equality of bearing of this burden and sacrifice. It is purely haphazard. Recent announcements of SPAB (the 1941 war industries board) make it clear that what has been done was without any comprehensive survey of either the total available supply or the irreducible needs all along the line and until very recently without much recognition or any consideration of this aspect of the problem and also without any attempt by conservation or any other proved methods to parry or soften the blow.

The only answer I have ever heard to these criticisms is: "It's the hazard of war. They happened to be in the wrong place when the bomb fell."

Two things ought to be done about this. First, the greatest possible effort should be made in applying necessary defense controls to do the least possible damage to the American business system. We're going to need it later. Our object is not only to fight and win, but to survive any war. Second, if some people must be forced into bankruptcy and destruction of their means of living there should be some means by which all of us should share the war—sacrifice by compensation to them and taxation on the rest of us.

KANSAS CITY FACES SECOND POWER STRIKE

Electrical Workers Threaten New Walk-out Today In Jurisdiction Dispute.

KANSAS CITY, Mo.—(U.P.)— A new shutdown of electric power to this metropolis was threatened today as union workers delivered an ultimatum to officials of the Kansas City Power and Light company.

Striking members of the AFL International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers at a closed meeting agreed to return to work until 2 p. m. today when they will again walk from power plants unless "a satisfactory settlement" of their dispute has been reached.

They maintained a token picket line at two main plants of the company but allowed their own members through it to man the massive turbines until the deadline is reached.

Whether a new walkout would cripple the city as did the union's first, unannounced strike at midnight yesterday, depended, it appeared, on the company's ability to replace the skilled electricians with loyal employes and strikebreakers.

A. E. Bettis, vice president of the company, said that he had not been contacted by the union regarding the new ultimatum but that he believed the company would be able to continue furnishing power without interruption.

"I don't look for any such shutdown as we had yesterday," he said.

W. D. Petty, of Washington, D. C., arrived here last night to join Albert F. Wright, another of the union's international representatives, in an attempt to reopen negotiations with the company.

The union, which claims 350 members, struck because it seeks to represent in present contract bargaining sessions 200 members of an independent organization which it said is a company union.

The independent union has been the basis of a National Labor Board action and a circuit court of appeals decision affirmed the board's order to the company to disestablish it. The company has not complied and is to answer a contempt citation in circuit court here Oct. 11.

Loyal employes and strikebreakers succeeded in restoring power to Kansas City yesterday, four hours after the switches first were thrown and the power has continued without interruption under police guard.

Up and Down the Street

The five sheep that Sheriff Frank Robinson searched for yesterday in Worthington township didn't exactly come as they did in the Mother Goose rhyme, but they were back in the pasture today, anyway. When the sheep disappeared from a field at the Otis Yarger farm near Butler, Yarger thought they had been stolen and called the sheriff. After the sheriff spent several hours looking for clues and finding none, the missing sheep were located peacefully munching grass about a mile from the Yarger farm.

Aching arms and legs were prevalent today in the Municipal building as city employes returned to work, having enjoyed their annual outing yesterday at North Lake park. Mayor William J. Locke, who pitched an inning in the council-fire department baseball game, set the precedent by nursing a sore arm. Other workers were still working out stiffness in their legs as they returned to work after playing three games of baseball, taking part in running races and other athletic events.

Mansfielders who were out between 2 and 4:30 a. m. today saw one of the most spectacular displays of northern lights in this section in recent months. Flashing across the sky from north to south, the rays seemed to come from huge searchlights. Created by an electrical disturbance in the Arctic regions, the lights were damaging to radio and telegraphic transmission, throttling signals and causing a crackling sound in radio receivers.

Frank Fachler, Shiloh, doesn't mind it when his car stalls usually. Yesterday, however, it was a different story. Fachler and his wife were crossing the Erie railroad tracks at Bowman street when the auto decided to stop. In the distance, Fachler could hear the whistle of an approaching train. He and his wife got out of the car safely but the auto will never stall again. The impact with the train threw it far to the side of the tracks, demolishing its entire front.

MECHANICS GO WITH CRAFT TO TRAIN SOVIETS

Size of Consignment Treated As Military Secret; Others to Follow.

(By International News Service)

WASHINGTON — Responsible quarters in Washington today disclosed that the first consignment of American-made warplanes has arrived in Soviet Russia.

Representing one of the most important steps yet taken by the United States government to aid Soviet Russia, arrival of this first consignment is expected to be followed by a steady flow of hundreds of warplanes from both this country and Great Britain.

Details concerning the number and type of planes in this first consignment is considered a military secret which cannot be made public.

Whether the American made planes have gone into action on the Russian front against the German luftwaffe could not be ascertained, but if not, it is expected they soon will be given their baptism of fire by Soviet pilots.

A small group of American aviation mechanics also is reported to have arrived in Russia to instruct the Soviet air force ground crews in the handling of the American-made planes.

The route by which the planes were shipped into the Soviet union is a defense secret. However, it is thought possible that they may have been flown in from British territory in the Near East. Large number of American-made planes have been shipped to the British forces in Africa and the Near East, and some of these may have been diverted to Russia.

Fighting planes are known to be among the most urgent needs of Soviet Russia at the present time. The need for immediate delivery of this type of aircraft was stressed by the Soviet government in its recent appeal to the United States and Great Britain for increased aid.

Reports current in Washington place the number of fighting planes requested by Russia from the United States and Britain as high as 500 per month.

Although Great Britain claims to have sent hundreds of warplanes to Russia already, it is considered doubtful that this country and Britain could divert as many as 500 per month to the Soviet union for any length of time.

However, there are indications that both governments are striving to get as many planes as possible to Russia within the next eight week in the hope the Soviet air force and armies will be able to hold out against the German advance until the arrival of winter weather.

Stage Door Incident: Most of the 'teen-age youngsters in "Best Foot Forward," the George Abbott musical, are new to the theater and are charmingly, disarmingly natural, blunt and frank. Some people find this behavior extremely contagious.

So it's not hard to understand what transpired a few days ago when the show's more mature (meaning over 19) star, Rosemary Lane, tried to get through a mass of autograph hunters at the stage door. Rosemary was woefully late for a rehearsal, and the pencil performers were not helping the situation a bit by blocking her progress.

Finally Rosemary broke away and made for the door. And the crowd of fans didn't like it at all.

"Aw, phoey on you!" an urchin shouted after her—accompanying the sally with a sound peculiar to Bronx rooting sections.

Whereupon the traditionally sweet Lane sister wheeled about, fixed her eye on the kid, and snorted:

"Gwan, I'll break yer arm!"

Well, it worked like a charm. The crowd shrunk back on its heel as one heel, so to speak, and Rosemary went giggling inside.

But I never thought I'd see the day when a glamour queen would meet her public so completely on their own terms.

Adventure Of a Broadwayite: John La Touche, the composer, is a collector of odd characters, and he will go out of his way to converse with a platinum blonde lady stoker, a paperhanger who has graduated from Harvard, a tattooed dowager, or an actress who keeps giraffes in her living room.

Just the other day, a friend told John about a lady barber who keeps shop at 28th and Lexington, and is so expert at haircutting that she can afford to disdain shaving customers. Naturally John was into a taxi and down there in the flick of an eye, and in two flicks, he was in the odd lady's barber chair, making her acquaintance.

He made it, I might say, rapidly, and in a few minutes lady barber and gentleman customer were exchanging Irish folk lore and rollicking with laughter. Somehow, cocktails entered the situation, and there was considerable toasting, bragging, flattering and jolly good fellowship.

It was only a question of time, of course when John would bravely order a haircut from his newfound friend. And this he did. And the lady whoopingly obliged.

Now John is inviting all his friends to look at his coiffure. The lady barber cut her initials out in his hair!

JURY DEBATES LUKENS GUILT

Janitor 'Expects Acquittal' As Jury Remains Out For Second Day.

(By Associated Press)

AKRON — Again today a jury debated the innocence or guilt of Albert B. Lukens, 58.

He has admitted cremating the body of 24-year-old Ruth Zwicker last Easter morning in a furnace at the church of which he was jaintor. Testifying during his first degree murder trial, he declared the young music teacher's death was accidental, caused by a fall against the church piano at which she had been practicing when he asked for a kiss.

The state demanded the penalty of death in the electric chair, contending that the defendant choked the young woman to death following an attempt to commit rape.

Lukens watched a jury of nine men and three women file out of common pleas courtroom at 10:30 a. m. yesterday to begin deliberations.

"I expect an acquittal," he said.

Jurors reported "some" progress at the dinner hour last night, but at 10:30 p. m. told Judge Wanamaker they had made no further progress, and were sent to a hotel for the night.

Lukens said he was "disappointed" at the failure to reach a verdict.

Twice before Lukens had awaited the verdict of a jury in a first degree murder trial, both concerned with the slaying of Mrs. Juha Stiegler, at Cincinnati in 1898. In both trials the juries disagreed, and he later served a sentence at Mansfield reformatory on his plea of guilty to a charge of manslaughter.

CONFESSED MURDERER SEEKS TO CONVERT INMATES TO RELIGION

(By United Press)

CATLETTSBURG, Ky.—A 46-year-old ex-convict who turned to religion and confessed a murder that had remained unsolved since 1915 made plans today to convert others 'to the truth" even though he faces life imprisonment or death.

Sitting in his cell at Boyd county jail, Brady White, member of a prominent southern West Virginia family, said he felt as "happy as a man walking out of the walls of a prison" since he made his confession.

"If my life is spared and I am sentenced to pay with the rest of my life for the wrong I have done, I will spread the word of God to my fellow inmates so that they, too, may enjoy the freedom I feel," he said.

White was brought here last night by Police Chief Charles F. Howard of Ashland, Ky., after he calmly recounted the details of a slaying at Ashland 26 years ago before a group of witnesses in a mission house at Charleston, W. Va.

He was to be given a preliminary hearing today before Judge Watt Pritchard in county circuit court and then probably will be held for the grand jury in November.

White, whose crime career began when he was 17 years old with the Ashland murder of George McKnight, a 22-year-old farmer-miner, expressed no fear of the penalty he may pay for his self-confessed crime.

"God has promised me salvation regardless of what mortal man does to me. If I go to the chair, I'll go happy."

White turned to religion only 16 days ago after he had been paroled in the custody of Pat Withrow, sr., superintendent of the Charleston Mission house where he made his confession. He had left Ohio state penitentiary at Columbus on Sept. 2 after serving two years for burglary.

SENTENCE DEFERRED

TOLEDO—(AP)—Kenneth Gaertner, 25, was convicted of violating U. S. postal laws in connection with a post card sent to President Roosevelt criticizing the executive's foreign policy. Federal Judge Frank L. Kloeb deferred sentence.

TAKEN BY DEATH

M. F. Kissell, 61, Was Trustee Of Franklin Township.

Marion F. Kissel, 61, a Franklin township trustee who for years was active in farm organization work, died this morning at Mansfield General hospital after an illness of several weeks.

Born Sept. 9, 1880, he had been a lifelong resident of this vicinity and lived five miles north of Mansfield on the Main street road. He was a member of the Ganges grange, the Pleasant Valley Baptist church, the Junior Order of American Mechanics in Shelby and the Fraternal Order of Eagles in Mansfield.

Surviving are his widow, Lena Wert Kissel; one son, M. Milo Kissel of Galion; two brothers, Sherman of Greenwich and Joseph of near Mansfield; two step-sons, William and Lester Wert; and two step-daughters, Mrs C. D. Talley and Mrs. Floyd Hoffman, all of Mansfield.

The body was taken to the Finefrock Funeral home where Rev. W. L. Peters of the Shelby Baptist church will conduct funeral services Saturday at 2 p. m.

Burial will be in Franklin cemetery in Franklin township.

INJURIES FATAL

Transient Killed When Hit by Mansfielder's Auto.

Morrow county officials today were still seeking the identity of a transient who died of injuries suffered yesterday when struck by an automobile driven by Edward T. Olsen, of Mansfield, on U. S. Route 42, eight miles south of Mt. Gilead. Olsen lives on Corner drive.

Olsen told Sheriff Oscar George that the man, about 50 years of age, had stepped directly in front of his car after waiting for another auto to pass.

Sheriff George was unable to establish the dead man's identity. Fingerprints have been taken and police records are being checked.

Olsen was released after questioning. Sheriff George said that the death had been "accidental" and that efforts to identify the dead man would be continued.

HIGH IN CIVIL SERVICE EXAMS

Harlan McCormick Heads List Of Candidates For Shelby Police Post.

SHELBY—Harlan McCormick placed high in the recent civil service examination for the junior patrolman post in the police department, Paul Curry, chairman of the Shelby Civil Service Commission, announced today.

The ranking of the other candidates taking the tests were Darly E. Smith, Arthur Bowser, John D. Yockey, Robert Burling, Russell Adam, Archie Earl Proper, and Woodrow McClurg.

High man in the examination given for the junior firemen position was Kenneth Koontz. Others were Bowser, Russell Adam and Woodrow McClurg.

The three top candidates for each position must take a physical examination to become eligible for appointment to the respective departments, Curry pointed out.

City council has authorized the addition of an additional patrolman to the police department. It is expected that Mayor W. R. Morris will make his announcement as soon as the civil service eligibility list is certified to him.

OFFICERS RENAMED

GALION—Officers of the past year were retained when the W. C. T. U. held its first meeting of the season at the home of Mrs. J. L. Fulton. Those re-elected were: president, Mrs. Fulton; vice president, Mrs. Charles McFarland; secretary, Mrs. C. E. Buckingham; treasurer, Mrs. W. G. Kiddey; pianist, Mrs. W. N. Robertson.

CONDUCT DRIVE FOR $75,000 ADDITION TO SHELBY HOSPITAL

SHELBY—Preparations have been completed for a drive for funds for a proposed $75,000 addition to Shelby Memorial hospital.

To be held here Sept. 24 and 25. "A day's pay this year and one in 1942" is the goal set by a committee of industrial plant employes planning the drive.

The addition will be built south of the present building.

The present hospital was built 20 years ago and now is taking care of almost twice as many patients as capacity allows.

ANNUAL CORN SHOW OPENS AT BUCYRUS TODAY

Coronation of Queen Tonight Will Highlight Crawford County Festival.

BUCYRUS—Interest has grown in the third annual Corn Show which opens today and will continue through Saturday.

Opening event in the three-day affair will be the crowning of the Corn Queen, Miss Betty Stephan of Tiro, who will be awarded the crown by Miss Eurena Brette, Chatfield, retiring queen.

The ceremony will be held on Washington square unless rain prevents, in which event the crowning will be held in the high school auditorium.

Miss Stephen will be attended by representatives of each of the county's rural schools, all of whom were candidates for the honor of being selected queen.

The program will include talks by Ed Bath, legislative agent for the Ohio Farm Bureau, and Stanley Laybourne of the state department of agriculture.

Friday's events will include the colt and steer shows at 10 a. m. which will feature animals raised by F. F. A. and 4-H club members. Baking exhibits will be judged during the afternoon and in the evening a parade will be headed by the queen and her party who will then take their places on the reviewing stand on Washington square for the remainder of the evening.

A variety of prizes are being offered by merchants for floats and for the best team of horses entered in the parade.

The corn husking contest will take place Saturday afternoon and prizes will be awarded.

A pie eating contest and greased pig chase will be staged on the square to be followed by the square dance on the parking lot at the rear of the Ohio Power company building. Music for the dancing will be provided by Danny Lust, Dallas township farmer, and his Wyandot Old Time Fiddlers.

STITCHERS MEET

GALION—The Jolly Stitchers club met recently at the home of Mrs. W. C. Mason. One guest, Mrs. Christ Fetter, was welcomed. Prizes for the day went to Mrs. W. C. Thayer and Mrs. Howard Neal.

ICELAND PATROL: NO. 3

Gadgets Fill Inside of Bomber

By MORGAN M. BEATTY
(AP Feature Service Writer)

ABOARD U. S. NAVY PATROL BOMBER OVER THE ATLANTIC—Jonah in the whale is perfectly plausible to the crew of a navy flying boat. That's the shape of their workshop, and you've got to play corkscrew to get around inside.

The men around me savvy the crooks and turns. That makes it simple for them, but I find dozens of gadgets to step on, trip over and bang my head against. Lucky the designer thought to pad some of these objects.

I seem to have developed a positive genius for sitting down on ration-filled seabags and knocking flare pistols sky-winding into the solarium—that's what they calls the blisters on the fuselage aft. It's bright and sunny out there. It's the home of the gunners.

Things seem confused, as if it were moving day aboard a flying boarding house, but confusion turns out to be convenience, the way these men go about their work. This big whale belly is fantastically compact There's a place for everything, and everything's fastened down, including ash trays and anchors Smoking's permitted everywhere except near the compartment carrying the fuel lines.

Every inch of space is taken up by something. Neat squares of canvas tacked to the hull carry most of the stowage, including the yellow life jackets. These are rubber contraptions. Dangling down from them are two pieces of plastic about the size of dice. Pull them and you punch a hole in a carbon dioxide gas cartridge. Then your belt blows up like a pouter pigeon and you're supposed to be saved from drowning. If we get a ducking in that ice water down there I wonder whether that ten minutes of life would really be worthwhile.

There's no mistake the wing de-icing mixture and drinking water, or vice versa. Everything's labeled but the paper towel rack. That's a recent addition, screwed to the back of the meck's (mechanic's) chair in the tower You "wash" your hands with these towels.

The tower is a flying dash board. It's tucked in the space where the fuselage fastens on to the wing. There's room enough for duplicate sets of all the instruments in front of the pilot up front. The meck's chair hangs down from the roof. The tower watch climbs up narrow ladders takes his perch between windows where he can see those two motors His orders come from the flight commander through the phone system.

High pressure fire extinguishers are all over the place. They handle like pistols. Each engine carries a special extinguisher. It operates from the tower. The plane can take off, fly and land on one motor. That makes me several notches happier.

Almost underfoot along the sixty-odd feet of runway are chests of tools, spare parts and whatnot, all screwed down. Near each man's normal position is oxygen apparatus and mask The ship will climb to 25,000 feet At 15,000 men sometimes go silly without oxygen, try a waltz or play tag.

The various banks of indicators carry blocks, all of them with different brands of time. One usually is on Greenwich time. A copper kettle still fills one small gap of space. In case of a forced landing the men can brew fresh water indefinitely.

We've got all the comforts of home except the easy chair in the living room. Somehow I don't seem to miss it up here.

CHAPTER IV

From some time after 11 until about 1 a. m. Lillian Mayfield worked as an emergency nurse and flamed inwardly because Dr. Dallas Tower had kissed her. In sleepy, tradition-steeped Rangeville nobody ever kissed a girl on the first evening he met her! Or if they did, she was immediately branded, Lillian knew, and both she and the man were socially on probation if the news got around.

Nobody had seen Dallas kiss her, true enough. But she herself knew! It had been so utterly unexpected. It had come under such strange circumstances. All this long evening, in fact, had been most unprecedented in the smooth routine of living here. Lillian had never before acted as a nurse anywhere. She had never encountered any man as self-sure as Dallas Tower, or one as likely to ignore conventions.

Take the woman hurt in the car crash—right in Lillian's presence Dal's keen shears went zip-zip on her clothing and the patient lay nude before him! But then—he had examined her fast, impersonally, efficiently, and in zip-zip time she had been given the blood staunching and the bandaging she required. Poor Mrs. Nagel, the night nurse in the hospital, was genuinely awed by Dr. Tower's crisp orders. Lillian's own crimson blushings had been completely ignored and unseen. It was as if both she and Mrs. Nagel were Dr. Tower's automatons. Earlier this day Lillian would have shuddered at the thought of carrying a pan of bloody water and cotton pads, but—

"Empty it, quickly please, and bring it back," Dallas ordered.

As the minutes then the hours passed, Lillian took cognizance of a number of things. During this period of adjustment she saw clearly that Dallas Tower was rendering an invaluable service here, and when the job was done long after midnight, she could relax with him. All at once there was nothing more to do. He turned from washing his hands, smiled at her as if just seeing her personally for the first time.

"Lots of fun!" he said, gaily. "Better wash up and we'll ride down town. May be some big doings."

She obeyed, partly from habit now. She was no longer affronted by his kissing her. Common sense told her that had been a kiss of gratitude anyway. A compliment, really; if a girl would let it be.

"Dallas, I just want to say you deserve a lot of thanks for pitching in this way tonight," she told him as they rode away from the hospital. "I can't imagine where all our other doctors are, unless the oil well—"

"Sure, Lillian. They probably went to see it. Doctors are human too. Lucky I was in on the ground floor. I mean, I could give emergency treatment in a hurry, and all."

"But you'd think they'd at least come to the hospital; or telephone!"

"They will yet, I'm sure. Are you awfully tired?"

"Not any more."

"Second wind," he nodded. "Nerves calmed. You'd make a swell—you could be great, Lillian."

She looked up at him. No, he wasn't joking.

"Silly!" she countered, inadequately.

"Mmmm." He was busy driving. They were back downtown and it was still alive with people. Hightower's drug store was open and busy. Dallas parked at the curb and presently Bubba Hightower himself came out wearing the white apron of his calling.

"Hi, doc! Hi Lillian! Great stuff, eh?" Bubba was bubbling more than ever tonight.

"Yep. Bring Lillian a good coffee and some sweet rolls, please. Dallas ordered for her. "Me a vanilla malt. And—what about candy? Top grade?

"Sure. Forty-cent and dollar fifty."

"Five pound box?"

"Yump! But it's the dollar fifty kind."

"Bring it, please."

When Bubba was gone, Lillian tried to make protest. "Did I say I wanted coffee at this hour, mister doc?" she was sweet about it.

He smiled. "No, I did. You aren't going to get any sleep this night anyway, I can tell. Might as well start on breakfast. The sweet rolls will give you some quick energy you need. And the candy—Lillian, please figure that a sort of thank-you from me. It's the only way I can say it just now, and——"

"You are nice! But thank you for what? I haven't done——"

"Thank you for helping me with those injured folk. You have no idea how that was needed! And for—well, for being decent to a stranger."

* * *

She moistened her lips looking at him there in his car. Suddenly she remembered his kiss. It didn't offend her any more. Not in the slightest. What a dunce she had been, to get her dignity all ruffled about a man's unconventional little doings! Dallas Tower was grand. She'd have to be very wary, now, or he'd be suspecting his new popularity with her!

Lillian smiled quietly to herself.

They had finished refreshments when Bubba Hightower came back out to hang on the car door and chin with them. Bubba approved of Lillian exactly 100 per cent anyway; any excuse to talk to her was welcome, and the oil well was excellent excuse tonight. Here at 3 a. m. the blazing well's glare flickered on the front of the Hays & Harris building, and on the skyscraper (four stories) which was the First National bank. Everywhere was a note of hilarity. People knew that wealth would strike Rangeville tomorrow, wealth and mushroom expansion, and although they couldn't yet see but one side of it they gloated in anticipation. Apparently the entire community was wide awake and all trying to pass through the Public square at once.

Suddenly the streams of automobiles were broken by an incongruous note. Around the drugstore corner came a one-horse vehicle, a surry which was a deliberate bit of the past. It was worn and ragged but it still shone from recent polishings, and it still had tassels that dangled from its square canopy. A buggy whip stood defiantly erect in its socket. Even the horse was sleek and prideful. And holding the reins was a gentleman as black as the black upholstery of the buggy itself.

The gentleman obviously was on an urgent mission for he looked left and right with an air of deep concern. All at once—

"Whoa, suh; whoa!"

He stopped his horse—quite flagrantly blocking automobile traffic—and awkwardly clambered down. He was dressed with meticulous care, and he walked now to Dal Tower's car in a peculiar rocking motion.

"Jason!" Lillian saw him and called. "Why Jason, you—"

"Miss Lillian, ma'am, git right outen that gentlemun's cah and come on home to yo' mamma!"

"But Jason—"

"It ain't no buts, ma'am! Miss Millie done stew herself all up. It's pas' three o'clock in the early mawin' and she tell me to go find you ef I taken all night. She ain't happy 'bout—"

"But Jason, I'm quite all right. Really I am. I have an escort."

"'Scusin' who the young gentlemun maybe is, ma'am, you don't know nothing about him yit. Ain't that a fack?"

"Why—why—"

Undeniably that much was true! Lillian glanced in embarrassment at Dal Tower. He and Bubba Hightower had begun to grin.

"This is an extra special night, Jason," Bubba put in.

"Yes suh, thank you suh. But Miss Millie Mayfield don't never like her chilluns gallavant around with strangers much, suh. You knows that yo' ownself, Mistuh Bubba."

"Sure do, Jason. And let me tell you something—did you know this man—this doctor here—already has two wives? One back in Chicago and another in Hollywood or somewhere? He—"

"Suh?" Black Jason's eyes widened in alarm. He glared belligerently at Dal Towers, until he suspected Bubba was teasing. "Aw shuh, I don't know—Miss Millie say—"

Dallas himself took charge then. "Jason, you are quite right about it. Miss Lillian should be home in bed."

"Thank you, suh."

"Now you take her home in the buggy and, uh, for good will I'll follow behind and pay my respects at the door, eh?"

Like it or not, Lillian had to obey! The two white boys forced it on her, Bubba grinning happily and Dal acting ever so formal. Bubba had left his soda jerker's apron inside so he rode out with Doc Tower now, creeping in funeral manner behind Jason's old-fashioned surry. By day, or even on any normal night, they would have created a mild sensation, but this night the oddity of it went unnoticed.

Rayon-Safe SUPER SUDS DOES YOUR WHOLE WASH!

KIDS' PLAY CLOTHES? SUPER SUDS WITH ⅓ MORE SUDS GETS 'EM SPANKING BRIGHT...
...AND SUPER SUDS IS RAYON-SAFE...FRESHENS ALL MY RAYONS BEAUTIFULLY AND SAFELY!
HERE'S HOW RAYON EXPERTS SAY TO WASH RAYONS
1. Test a small patch in plain water for color-fastness. If color runs, it's not washable.
2. Wash rayons separately by hand in lukewarm suds. Pour warm water over Super Suds. Add cold water to get lukewarm suds.
3. Do not soak rayons. Wash quickly and gently. Do not rub, wring, or twist.
4. Rinse thoroughly, gently, in clean, lukewarm water. Roll in towel, but don't leave there.
5. Use a moderate iron.

Dairy Cow Needs Lots of Water To Produce Milk

CHICAGO—(INS)—A recent experiment conducted at the Michigan State college proves that a dairy cow as a manufacturing plant for milk requires volumes of water.

The three-year-old Holstein used for the experiment was a good producer. She turned out 12,915 pounds of milk containing 367 pouids of butter fat in a year. Dr. C. F. Huffman, dairy nutrition specialist, metered the water consumed by his heavy producer and reported she drank 34,985 pounds of water, or nearly 17½ tons.

Cows that were given access to water twice a day increased production 4 per cent when given drinking cups. Other milkers watered once a day increased production 11 per cent when drinking cups gave them access to more water.

Briefly, it takes three times as much water as a cow produces in milk, although in hot weather the amount will increase proportionately.

INDIVIDUAL COFFEE CAKES deliciously light, tender, spicy, made this Spry FULL FLAVOR way

● They're mixed in a twinkling, baked in muffin tins, topped with spicy crumbs. And won't you get compliments when folks taste them!

For purer Spry lets you get the FULL FLAVOR of the lusciousingredients in them—makes them light as a feather, too. Don't risk ordinary shortenings that may dull flavor in this or any of your recipes. Change to Spry today for all your baking and frying.

PURER ALL-VEGETABLE Spry THE FLAVOR SAVER

Little Coffee Cakes

1⅔ cups sifted flour, 2 teaspoons baking powder, ¾ teaspoon salt, ½ teaspoon nutmeg, ⅓ cup sugar, ⅓ cup Spry, 1 egg, beaten, ⅔ cup milk

Sift flour with baking powder, salt, nutmeg and sugar. Cut in Spry fine. (So easy to do with this smooth triple-creamed shortening!) Combine egg and milk. Turn liquids into dry ingredients and stir vigorously until all flour is dampened. Pour batter into Sprycoated muffin pans.

Topping: 6 tablespoons flour, ¼ cup brown sugar, ¼ teaspoon cinnamon, 1 tablespoon butter, 2 tablespoons Spry

Combine flour, brown sugar, cinnamon, butter and Spry. Sprinkle over batter. Bake in hot oven (400°F.) 20 minutes. Makes 12 and they ARE delicious! Spry makes them so light and tender and delicate-tasting—lets you get the FULL spicy flavor of the luscious crumb topping. Use Spry for all your baking—frying, too.

½ PRICE LIGHTING EQUIPMENT SALE

ENDS SAT. SEPTEMBER 20

With the purchase of any electrical merchandise amounting to $9.95 or more you can buy any piece of lighting equipment of equal or less value at ½ its regular price.

This is entirely different from any other offer we've ever made. It is possible only because, in these days of rapidly increasing prices, we purchased our fall lamp and lighting equipment stocks this spring instead of waiting until the usual August and September markets. Because we did buy these stocks at prices much lower than we could possible obtain now, we can make you this unusual offer on lighting equipment when purchased with other electrical appliances of $9.95 or more. So act now. Dark days and long evenings are just ahead. Get ready for them by buying your lamps and other lighting needs now at one-half price.

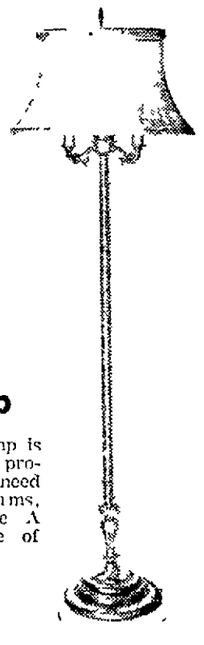
Get This $19.95 Floor Lamp For Only $9.98



The Roaster

We have a few of these rectangular Westinghouse roasters, complete with dishes, in stock. These were purchased many months ago and represent one of the best values in an electric roaster now available

The Floor Lamp

This beautiful six-way floor lamp is built to I E S specifications to provide any amount of light you need for any eye task. Three candle arms, 3-2-1 bulb, matching silk shade. A real buy at its regular price of $19.95.

The Makings Of a Champion But He Needs Help

If he's going to make a sensational halfback in 1955, he'll have to start working now. He'll have to have lots of fresh air and exercise, and above all, plenty of nutritious B R E A D with Vitamin B1. He can well take care of the fresh air and exercise himself, but it's up to you to see that he gets proper foods. Put your future halfback on the right road. Give him Martin's Bread at every meal. Hit that Hitler!

That's the cry at Johnny Appleseed junior high these days.

Coach Paul Cameron gives you the explanation.

"We've got plenty of ammunition in the way of rocks on our football field," says he, "so I thought the best way to clear them off would be to make a game of it.

"No matter how much we rake the gridiron, rocks keep working up through the soil and present a serious hazard to life and limb of our football players.

"So every day I've been taking my gym classes out on the field to gather rocks. We've set up a firing line, and over on a tree we've painted a target.

"That, I tell the boys, is Hitler. Fire and fall back! You think my gym classes don't get exercise."

"Just to make it interesting I promised the boys that anyone hitting the target ten times in one gym period would be sure of a B for the course. And that if he did good work in gym classes later he'd have an A.

"You should see those kids flying around the field gathering rocks and then giving 'em the old heave-ho. I'd hate to be in Hitler's shoes if he ever finds himself up a tree in front of that firing squad."

Coach Bob DeHaven at John Simpson can take a tip from Cameron this time.

DeHaven tells me that the new Simpson gridiron, built over an old dump heap, also is working its share of sticks and stones up through the top soil. And that slabs of tin a foot long can be ripped up through the grass.

From this sport you'll get a sock,
Altogether, HEAVE THAT ROCK!

I learn that Jim Coleman, Mansfield Brave hurler of the past season, was a visitor in town recently, stopping off on his way to the London prison farm with a Cleveland softball team.

But Jim denied that he intended any extended visit at London.

And he also denied that he was going to play softball.

He was just going along for the ride. And that, you'll remember, is what she said.

TUNNEY'S HAT IN RING FOR MILITARY TRAINING

CINCINNATI — (AP) — Lieut Commander Gene Tunney director of physical education for the U. S navy and former heavyweight boxing champion, today foresaw the establishment of permanent compulsory military training for youths "between 17 and 20."

Cards Cut Brooklyn's Difference

Win Two While Fate's Fair-Haired Boys Win One.

(By Associated Press)

THE favorite flippancy of baseball players is "I'd rather be lucky than good" and this little crumb of wisdom explains why the Brooklyn Dodgers still are in first place in the National league and seem destined to win the pennant.

They are fate's fair-haired boys. The club only yesterday was on the verge of dropping its second straight game, trailing 3-1 going into the ninth inning at Pittsburgh. A loss coupled with a double victory by St. Louis over the Boston Braves would have transferred first place to the Cardinals by a tiny percentage margin.

But what happened? You guessed it. The Dodgers scored five runs in the ninth inning and beat the Pirates 6-4 to retain a one-game margin over the Cardinals, who whipped the Braves 6-1 and 3-2.

* * *

Brooklyn's ferocious flurry was started by little Augie Galan, whose batting average at the time was exactly .200 and who was waived to the minors last month by the Chicago Cubs only to have the Dodgers toss him a life preserver.

He had delivered a pinch double in the ninth inning at Cincinnati Tuesday to send that game into overtime and he led off with another pinch double yesterday. Then the whole team batted around.

The Pirates recovered a run in their half of the ninth, but that rally was the ball game.

The Cardinals had an equally tough time taking their two victories from the Braves and must have been disheartened at seeing the Dodgers dance back out of the furnace at Pittsburgh.

In the first game Howard Pollet and Tom Earley waged a beautiful hurling duel till the eighth inning. In the second game Max Lanier and Jim Tobin gave another magnificent mound show—Lanier allowing five hits and Tobin six.

The Cincinnati Reds bagged a doubleheader from the Phils 1-0 and 3-2. The Chicago Cubs clumbed on the New York Giants 7 to 3.

In the American league the New York Yankees clipped the Chicago White Sox, 5-3. The Boston Red Sox edged out Cleveland 3-2 with Joe Dobson pitching six-hit ball. Detroit downed the Philadelphia Athletics 3-2 although outhit and Washington whipped the St. Louis Browns 9-8 in 10 innings.

Hilborn Leads A-Leaguers

Six 600 Scores Rolled In Opening Matches.

The A-league bowlers stepped away in stride last night in their opening matches at Colony alleys, with no less than six 600 games being turned in.

Art Hilborn led the way with 181-253-213--647, and his Bissman teammate, Johnny Leppo was second with 222-217-199--638. Together they boosted Bissman's to high team honors for the evening with 2,805, but Lutz Lumber, taking advantage of a 48-pin handicap, beat them 2-1.

* * *

Carl Wiseman tied Hilborn for high game with 253, and turned in a 613 total. Nick Schmidt rolled 625 for Liederkranz, while for Goebels, Brig Young turned in a 617 total and Glenn Yingling 616.

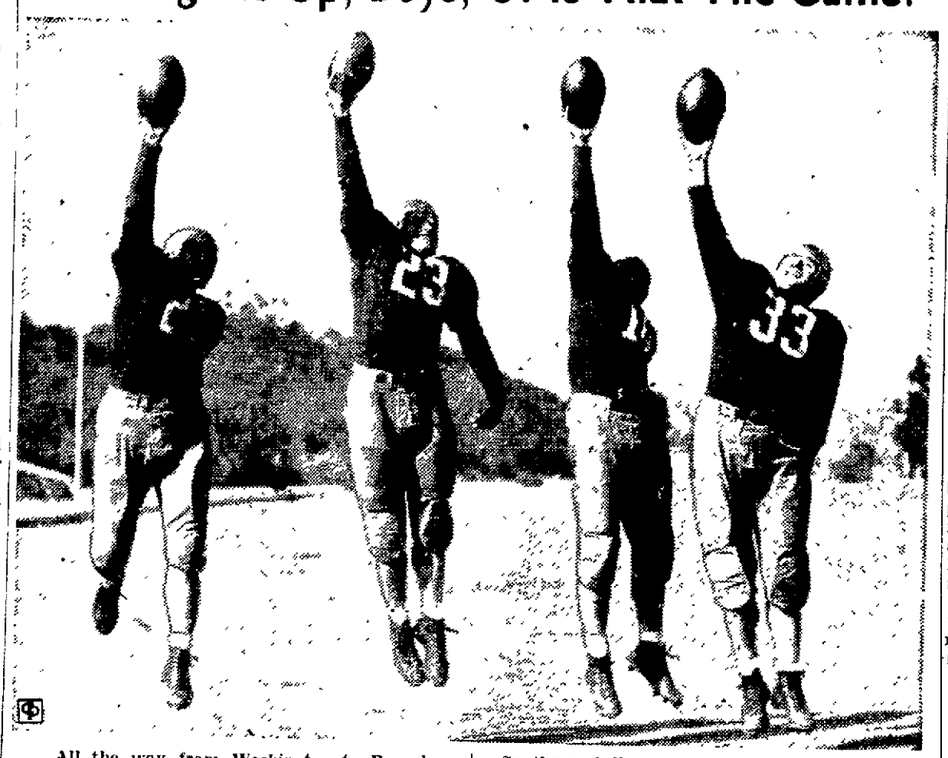
Now High Is Up, Boys, Or Is That The Game?



All the way from Washington to Beverly Hills, Cal., went these Redskins to train. Members of the Washington pro grid team, the high-reaching gents are Bob Hoffman, ex-Southern California star; Wilbur Moore, who was some shakes as a back at Minnesota; Dick Todd, from Texas A. and M., and Frank Filchock, an all-conference back at Indiana.

Veteran Tygers Tangle With Green Akron West Gridders

A green Mansfield High team composed mainly of sophomores and juniors had the toughest kind of a time last fall in edging out a 14 to 13 victory over a veteran Akron West aggregation in the opening game of the high school football season at Stadium field.

Tomorrow night a veteran Tyger club of juniors and seniors tackles a green Akron West team in another opening game at the stadium. The Tygers naturally are favored to win, but they're not counting on an easy victory.

Says Joe Romano, Tyger end: "One of those guys dropped a pass over the goal line last year that would have beaten us. We'll be taking no chances." And that's the way the rest of the Tygers who played in that 1940 battle feel about it.

A check-up of the probable starting lineup for Akron West for tomorrow night's game shows only one regular from last season, Dick Hollander at right half.

Bob Flint, substitute back who scored Akron's second touchdown last fall on a 7-yard smash at the line, is a possible starter at fullback tomorrow night. And there's West's list of veterans.

Mansfield made only three first downs last year to eight for West, and the comparison in this department very likely will be reversed when these teams tangle again.

West scored first in the 1940 encounter when Sarkis returned a punt 81 yards for a touchdown in the second period. Kelker's place kick for point was blocked.

On the next kickoff Mansfield worked a double reverse with Lightnin' Jones finally getting the ball for an 82-yard touchdown dash, and Adam Brandt booted the extra point for a 7 to 6 lead.

* * *

In the third period Bill Doolittle went 31 yards for a Mansfield touchdown on a bootlegger play to the right, and again Brandt kicked the extra, and what proved the winning point. The fourth quarter saw West marching 60 yards for a touchdown, with Flint finally blasting through the line for seven yards to score. Kelker kicked the extra point.

The probable starting lineup and weights of the Akron team tomorrow night will be:

	Pos.	Wt.
Sid Mann	L.E.	142
Jim Black	L.T.	160
Ralph McComb	L.G.	143
Jim Sarvis	C.	130
Tony Catalano	R.G.	187
Tom McDermott	R.T.	180
Jerry Daniels	R.E.	140
George Pappas	Q.B.	135
Bill Zuendel	L.H.	160
Dick Hollander	R.H.	139
Bob Flint	F.B.	153

This makes an average of 151½ pounds for the Westerners, and compared to the 165 average of the Tygers the Akron club doesn't look so big—on paper. But you never can tell about the accuracy of weights reported by visiting teams.

Here was the starting lineup for West last year: Crews, le, Poulos lt, Garlitz lg, Caprido c, Petros rg Kelker rt, Blair re, Sarkis qb, Combs lh, Hollander rh, Patton fb. Subs were: Wilhams, Richards, Flint, Cook, Forney. Compare this lineup with that listed above.

SURE OF SEATS

Fans buying season reserved seats for Mansfield high school football games this fall will be certain of getting the seats their tickets call for, Athletic Director Harry Mehock declared today. A corps of 50 ushers will be on hand under supervision of teachers recruited from the entime Mansfield school system.

Season tickets may still be obtained from Athletic Supply, Yuncker Sports, Fox Jewelry, and the following drug stores; Tawse's, Mayer's, Brown's and Central.

CANNON BALL SNARES GRAND CIRCUIT RACE

DELAWARE—(AP)—Cannon Ball, a bay colt from George Benham's Cedarhurst, L. I., stables, established a new world's record for two-year-old trotters as he raced to a two-heat victory in the $2,500 Delaware Gazette inaugural on yesterday's Grand Circuit harness racing program.

Harry Whitney piloted the colt to a 2:09 mile in the first heat and a 2:07¾ performance in the second, clipping one second off the old two-heat mark.

TWO BANDS TO PLAY FOR SHELBY GAMES

SHELBY—Two bands will furnish music at the opening football game here at 8 p. m. on Friday when the Shelby Whippets play Norwalk high school at W. W. Skiles athletic field.

The recently organized Alumni band and the 75-piece high school bands will be seen in action

Fredericktown Has Boosters

Club Formed to Help Community Athletics.

FREDERICKTOWN — Twenty business men interested in the promotion of community athletics met at the high school this week and organized a Booster club. Kelly Walter was appointed chairman of the group.

The purpose of the club will be to promote school athletics and more adequate recreational activity for the community as a whole.

* * *

One of the chief goals sighted at this time is to raise funds for lighting the athletic field for football and softball. The initial event sponsored by the Booster group will be a public rally to be held Sept. 25 at the high school. Feature will be a band concert, a pep meeting and introduction of the football team.

The first game of the Fredericktown football season, with Mt. Vernon reseves, will be called at 3 o'clock Friday as part of the street fair program. Coach Roy McKinley cites a probable lineup as follows.

Allen Steels, le., Harold Daniels, lt., Charles Craft, lg, Russell Walker, c., Harold Rush, rg., Caryl Litt, rt., Henry Warner, re., Bob Aungst, qb., Bob Gifford, lh., Harold Bechtel, rh., Oliver Cline, fb.

Fifteen letter men were lost from last year's squad leaving to this season's team only five letter men. In view of this fact, Coach McKinley reports that following seasons may look more promising than the one at hand. "However," he says, "although the boys lack experience, they are ambitious, and further than that only game time will tell."

ALLEY LEAGUES OPEN

Ohio Fuel Gas bowling league gets under way at Colony Alleys Monday night at 6:30 with six teams, Humphryes league with six men's teams and two women's quintets, starts on Thursday night of next week, and the mixed doubles league opens Tuesday at 8:30.

Rookies Rule Ohio Football

Sophs Get Play as Mentors Slap Squads Together.

(By Associated Press)

The curtain rolls up tonight on what appears to be one of Ohio's most unpredictable college football seasons.

What with the way many coaches have been slapping new squads together in desperate attempts to cover up vacancies created by draft, defense jobs, graduation, injuries, etc., it's a little hard to say how the rankings will look a couple months hence.

* * *

One definite prediction you could make at the moment is that Youngstown college, boasting a squad made up chiefly of veterans, should have little trouble with Geneva, (Pa.) college at the Steel City tonight in launching the Buckeye campaign.

* * *

Not so many other schools have a supply of veterans, though. At Ashland college, Coach Tony Lonero has only 16 men from which to build a team, and linemen are being taught to play the backfield, and vice versa.

Muskingum's squad will be lighter but speedier than last year and Coach Howard Kissell is stressing passing to offset lack of power.

Coach Bob Whittaker at Bowling Green has 40 candidates, including 12 lettermen, but a big question mark still looms. Stan Yoder, 200-pound fullback from Bowling Green, will be lost in the season's opener against Wooster, Sept. 27, because of an injured knee.

Sam Selby's Otterbein Cardinals cut their grid drills to one a day, and prepared to rise or fall with a team made up chiefly of sophomores in key backfield and line spots.

* * *

Sponsor Coon Hunt At Lucas Friday

A night coon hunt on the grounds of the Lucas Beagle club will be held Friday, H. E. Stewart, chairman, announced today.

* * *

Sponsored by the Richland county Fish and Game protective association and the beagle club, the coon chase will charge a $1 entry fee which will be used to reward heat winners.

* * *

The Beagle club grounds are located five miles east of Mansfield near State Route 39.

Gophers Use Little Gridder

Minnesota's Beefier Lads Bow to Small, Fierce Boys.

CHICAGO—(AP)—Minnesota, exponent of the steamrolling and bone-crushing type of football is preparing for an occasional heavy attack this season led by a good little fellow, Bud Higgins.

From the Gopher camp, where players are scrapping for places on the sleeper to Seattle for the opening game with Washington Sept. 27, come reports of this 155-pound Sophomore halfback who has the old college try and the ruggedness usually associated with beefier lads.

Wisconsin is bemoaning the loss of Bob Wilding, veteran left halfback, who found an old shoulder injury would force him to give up competition this year.

Ohio State's gridders spent yesterday's practice taking each other's places as the big shuffle of personnel continued. At Ann Arbor Coach Fritz Crisler expressed a desire for warm weather to burn some of the excess poundage off his Michigan squad.

A couple of Purdue Sophomore backs, Bob Chester and Kenneth Smock, are showing up well in Boilermakers drills as Coach Mal Edward works on a fast aerial attack. Iowa had two Sophomore ends, Henry Miller and Bob Yelton, on the second team where they apparently have clinched positions, and now the two are scrapping for first team berths.

Another first-year man who showed up well yesterday was Buck Correll. Pass defense was the order at Indiana where Coach Bo McMillen is fretting about the end situation. Two Juniors—Jack Walsh and Howdy Elliott—apparently will get the call for the first game.

* * *

Second-year men also are filling Northwestern's flank positions, but Coach Lynn Waldorf is seeking understudies for the pair, Bob Motl and Bud Hasse.

Charles Mill Remains Safe

Ducks Get Reservoir's Use For Still Another Year.

COLUMBUS — (AP) — Several thousand acres will be added to Ohio's inland waterfowl sanctuaries this fall in a program designed to assure better hunting in the future.

The state conservation and natural resources division voted yesterday to extend the sanctuary system over one-fourth of the Muskingum watershed conservancy district and Commissioner Don Waters said he would try to designate as many of the refuges as possible before the duck hunting season opens Oct. 1.

The commission also voted to maintain a 400-acre sanctuary in the Charles Mill reservoir in Ashland and Richland counties for another year.

Waters said the commission hoped to establish flyways for feeding migrating ducks, thereby assuring better shooting farther inland.

The duck hunting season in Pymatuning Lake area was postponed until Oct. 15 to conform with season dates in neighboring Pennsylvania, and the Beach City reservoir in the Muskingum watershed was thrown open to duck hunting for the first time. A fishing ban at Beach City was also lifted, effective Oct. 1.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By HUGH S. FULLERTON, Jr.

NEW YORK — (The Special News Service)—One of the biggest disappointments Leo Durocher has had lately was when Montreal got into the International league's final playoffs. . . . Leo wanted to bring up Claude Corbitt from the farm to play shortstop the last couple of weeks. . . . After the past three days it seems that the Dodgers could make things a lot easier for themselves and the fans by playing the ninth inning first. . . . One of the guys who stopped by to congratulate Johnny Allen on his swell pitching Tuesday was Paul Derringer, who was in line for a few congratulations himself. . . . The report from the home front is that the Dodgers had to rent extra quarters to handle world series applications. We thought they'd tacked them right onto the price of tickets.

Rams Play First Game Tomorrow

Tomorrow at 3 p. m. Madison high's Rams—out for vengeance and a new spirit—will journey to New London and see what can be done about reversing the tables on the team which trounced them 12-7 last fall.

* * *

The Rams will find a new regime among the Wildcats with Elmer Crabbs taking over coaching duties at the New London school for the first time this year. Last year Crabbs finished as line coach, a position he held since 1934.

* * *

While Madison was wallowing in grief and benched players last year to the tune of but one victory, New London was taking six games and losing three.

More persons have heard owls than have seen them, because most owls are active at night.

QUOTE, UNQUOTE.

Bobo Newsom: "I've pitched this year just as good as I did last year, but you can't win if you don't get them tallies behind you."

Letty Gomez: "I oughta win two or three more games if Johnny Murphy keeps in condition."

SERVICE DEPT.

The boxing business in Norfolk, Va., is going through a boom with Fred Apostoli the No. 1 attraction in a bunch of good scrappers from the naval base. . . . The U. of Alabama is another college offering service men cut rate football. The price is 55 cents for all six games within the state. . . . The Grand View Country club at West Boylston, Mass., has decided to let army officers play golf for half the regular greens fee and has set aside Mondays when 100 enlisted men from any New England camp can play for nothing.

TODAY'S GUEST STAR.

Tim Cohane, New York World-Telegram: "It appears that the Athletics got back into the cellar joint just in time to put up their fall preserves. A little canning wouldn't hurt them, at that."

CLEANING THE CUFF.

After Lew Jenkins knocked out Cleo McNeal at Minneapolis last week a flock of autograph hounds gathered around the exit. And most of them passed up Lew to get signatures from his wife, Katie. . . . George Halas pays about $110 a game for movies of the Chicago Bears in action. . . . Lightweight Marty Servo will join the navy right after his fight with Ray Robinson in Philly, providing Ray leaves him in shape to sign up. . . . One of the big selling points for season sports tickets at the U. of Missouri is that they're protection against the "sold out" sign in basketball.

Millers Get Hot, Take Another Tilt

(By Associated Press)

The way the Minneapolis Millers look at it, there was no point in declaring them out of the American association playoffs until they were actually out.

It might have been the three days of rest—caused by rainy weather—or the joy of returning to their home park. Anyway, something pepped up the Millers so that, losers of three straight to Louisville, they have come in with two wins in a row.

That's how the series stood today, three games for Louisville and two for Minneapolis. One more triumph for the Colonels will end the match. Another win for the Millers will force the series to the seven full games.

The victory yesterday was a 10 to 6 affair, clinched with three runs in the seventh and one in the eighth. Chief Hogsett, who weathered a 12-hit Louisville blast for seven innings and then retired in favor of a pinch-hitter, received credit.

SYNDICATE MAKES BID TO PURCHASE PHILLIES

PHILADELPHIA—(INS)—John B Kelly, former Olympic oarsman and currently National director of physical education, today revealed that a written offer to purchase the Phillies has been made by a syndicate of which he is a member.

The offer was mailed from Philadelphia and is expected to reach the Phillies' president, Gerry Nugent, in Cincinnati today where the Phils play a double-header with the Reds.

36—City Homes For Sale

LARGE HOTEL SITE

This large business corner, 120 ft. on West Third St. and 180 ft. on Mulberry St to Library Court, is the ideal location for the new modern hotel, being planned for Mansfield with some 300 to 500 rooms, to take care of the increasing hotel trade. $125,000 was refused for this splendid corner some years ago and refused (by members of the church) but we are offering this large corner for $60,000 and will take a $10,000 property as down payment. See us at once on this splendid site.

PAM—The Colonel's Plan! By A. W. Brewerton

HIS STORY AFFECTED ME DEEPLY, PAMELA—I WISH I COULD HELP HIM!
OH, YES, SOME SIMPLE OFFICE WORK—A FILE CLERK, I BELIEVE, ENOUGH PAY TO KEEP HIM GOING AND DID HE FIND WORK HERE, COLONEL?
IT WAS AFTER HE CAME TO THIS CITY, HE SAYS, THAT THE NAME "CAREY" SEEMED TO KEEP POPPING UP IN HIS HEAD! BE ODD, WOULDN'T IT, IF HE DID TURN OUT TO BE RELATED TO ME?
I'M GOING TO WRITE ALL THE KINFOLKS I CAN THINK OF—SEE IF ANY ONE OF THEM HAS HEARD OF A MISSING RELATIVE!
OH, THAT WOULD BE A FINE IDEA, COLONEL
HE'S BEEN TO SOME GOOD DOCTORS HERE, AND A PSYCHIATRIST—BUT NONE HAS HELPED HIM, SO FAR POOR, POOR MAN! I FEEL SO SORRY FOR HIM!

Rates are not the same at all loan companies. We publish our payments and our rate of charge to help you shop for a loan.

Loans made three ways: (1) on signature; (2) on car; (3) on furniture. No endorsers. Friends or relatives are not told. Fair treatment in case of sickness or unemployment. Payments include charges of 2½ monthly on balances of $300 or less and 1½% monthly or any remainder—the same rate to everyone. Nothing else to pay. To apply—phone, write or visit office. Money ready next day—or sooner if necessary.

FOUND AFTER 30 YEARS

SEATTLE, Wash. —(U.P.)— An aged Seattle couple who for nearly 30 years believed their son had died at sea, learned that he is living in Melbourne, Australia. Mr. and Mrs. John M. Pearson received a letter from their missing son, John, whom they last saw in 1905 before he "shipped out" for the Orient on a sailing vessel.

SELLING HALTS UPWARD SWING ON STOCK MART

Early Gains Cut Following Unexplained Recovery Sprint Wednesday.

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK—The stock market tried for another forward push today but ran into enough selling opposition to halt the swing.

Dealings, relatively fast at the opening, slowed later and, near the second hour, initial gains of fractions to a point were cut or cancelled.

Wall Street still was unable to find any outstanding news to account for Wednesday's recovery sprint. It was suggested, though, that persistent rumors Washington and Tokyo were about to get together provided bullish stimulation.

Market encouragement was derived from the Dun & Bradstreet compilation of bank clearings for the week ended Wednesday disclosing the total for 22 cities, excluding New York, was the largest for any week since July, 1930.

Not so pleasing was the survey of the Engineering News-Record estimating heavy construction awards for the week oncluded Tuesday were 14 per cent under those of the preceding week and .4 per cent below the figure in the like days of 1940.

Maritime Commission Delivers Ultimatum on Vessels Tied Up By Seamen's Strike.

A strike of AFL electricians continued at Kansas City, but the Missouri metropolis enjoyed regular light and power service nevertheless, after a four-hour blackout early yesterday. Skeleton crews of non-striking employes were operating the powerhouses of the Kansas City Light and Power company. The strikers, however, voted last night to continue their walkout.

The strike stemmed from a jurisdictional dispute. The AFL union, which represents 350 of the power company's employes, has demanded that it also be allowed to represent 200 other workers, members of the independent union of utility employes.

A second conference was called by the mediation board at Washington today in an effort to obtain an agreement for reopening a group of "captive" soft coal mines in Pennsylvania, Ohio, Virginia and Kentucky, owned by major steel companies.

The 43,000 striking CIO United Mine Workers demand a union shop. A conference yesterday, attended by union representatives and steel company executives, failed to bring settlement of the dispute. However, John L. Lewis, UMW president, submitted a proposal for quick resumption of work. Terms of the proposal were not disclosed by the mediation board, but it was to be considered today.

A dispute over increased union dues and assessments continued to hold up production in a number of eastern Pennsylvania anthracite mines. Twenty thousand CIO-UMW members remained away from work at 44 collieries, although 4,000 men went back to the pits in the Wilkes-Barre area after the mine operators had agreed to quit deducting union assessments for the present time.

MANSFIELD NEWS IN BRIEF

Work On Score Board—Workmen were installing a new electric score board today in the Simpson junior high gym, in preparation for the first basketball game of the season.

Receive Relief Share — City Auditor Paul L. Kelley announced today that Mansfield had received $1,324 from the state to match its August relief expenditures. The state matches 50 per cent of the city's relief costs monthly.

Take Field Trip—The Mansfield Nature club will make a field trip to Mohican State park Sunday, leaving from South park, Mansfield, at 12:45 p. m. A representative of the Wooster Experiment station will conduct the tour of the park.

Check Roof Fire — Mansfield firemen were called out yesterday to check a roof fire at the home of Peter Dickerson, 186 West Sixth street. Sparks from the chimney were blamed for the blaze which burned a large hole in the roof.

Investigate Burglary—Sheriff's deputies today were investigating the theft of 30 gallons of motor oil from the Sinclair bulk station on Longview avenue. R. E. Horton, manager, told authorities the burglars broke into the station to get the oil which was in 12 cans.

Schoolmen Elect — At the Schoolmasters club meeting held last night in the Gasco club, H. B. Scoles was elected president for the coming year; Harold Ramsey, vice president; C. C. Secrist, treasurer; Edwin Cooper, secretary. Lunch was served at the close of the meeting.

Plan Initiation — The annual initiation picnic for new faculty members of John Simpson junior high school will be held at 6 p. m. Friday at the old Camp Avery Hand, with a softball game and a corn roast highlighting the evening. George Tuttle will be in charge of the initiation of new teachers, with Martha L. Thompson and Donald Haber, assisting.

Injured In Fall—Mrs. Nellie Kanter, former Mansfield resident, is in a critical condition in St. Joseph's hospital, Kansas City, Mo., as the result of a fall in her home there earlier this week. She is the mother of Mrs. Willard Race, 79 East Third street, and Mrs. John Dunajtsik, Park avenue west road, and D. E. Kanter of Lexington.

JOINS FEDERAL RESERVE

CLEVELAND—(U.P.)—The federal reserve bank at Cleveland announced today that the Liberty bank at Ada, Hardin county, had been admitted to membership in the federal reserve system.

NAVY REPLIES TO AXIS THREAT

force the policy which President Roosevelt enunciated in his speech a week ago, when he barred "defensive waters" to Axis raiders and ordered the navy to protect all shipping in those areas.

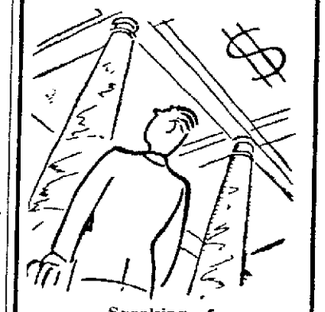
The announcement of convoys appeared to join one issue squarely, for Admiral Raeder already has placed himself on record that lease-lend cargoes would be attacked, regardless of the nationality of their escorts.

"Since the nature of the cargoes of convoyed ships, according to American admissions, was established from the very beginning as contraband," he declared May 25, "resort to this type of convoy system would not be a neutral convoy but an open war act and a bare, unprovoked attack.

"German naval forces would therefore be justified in taking measures against these contraband carriers, according to the law of sea warfare."

The announcement that convoys and all other means of protection were now in use was expected to kick up a furor of some duration in congress, where the subject already has caused much acrimonious debate.

When the lease-lend bill was under consideration, there were repeated attempts to write in a no-convoy prohibition, but administration forces defeated them all.



Speaking of "Price Ceilings" . . .

You can still buy a fine suit for $21.50 and a topcoat for $21.50 for we know that when you can't, you'll go without the clothes and we'll go without the business . . . and that would be bad for us both.

You will see values here this Fall with a capital V . . .
